Opening

To many different people, St. Edward High School represents many different things.

To some it represents one of the finest high school athletic programs in the state epitomized in the slogan, "The Big Green Machine."

Most are reminded of the excellent academic program which produces large numbers of scholarship winners each year and prepares even more students for success in furthering their education or entering the job market.

Some equate "St. Edward High School" with Christian Environment where boys become men and learn important lessons about life that cannot always be found in textbooks.

Still others point to the fine accomplishments of student activities such as the band, the play productions, and the publications by which the school is known.

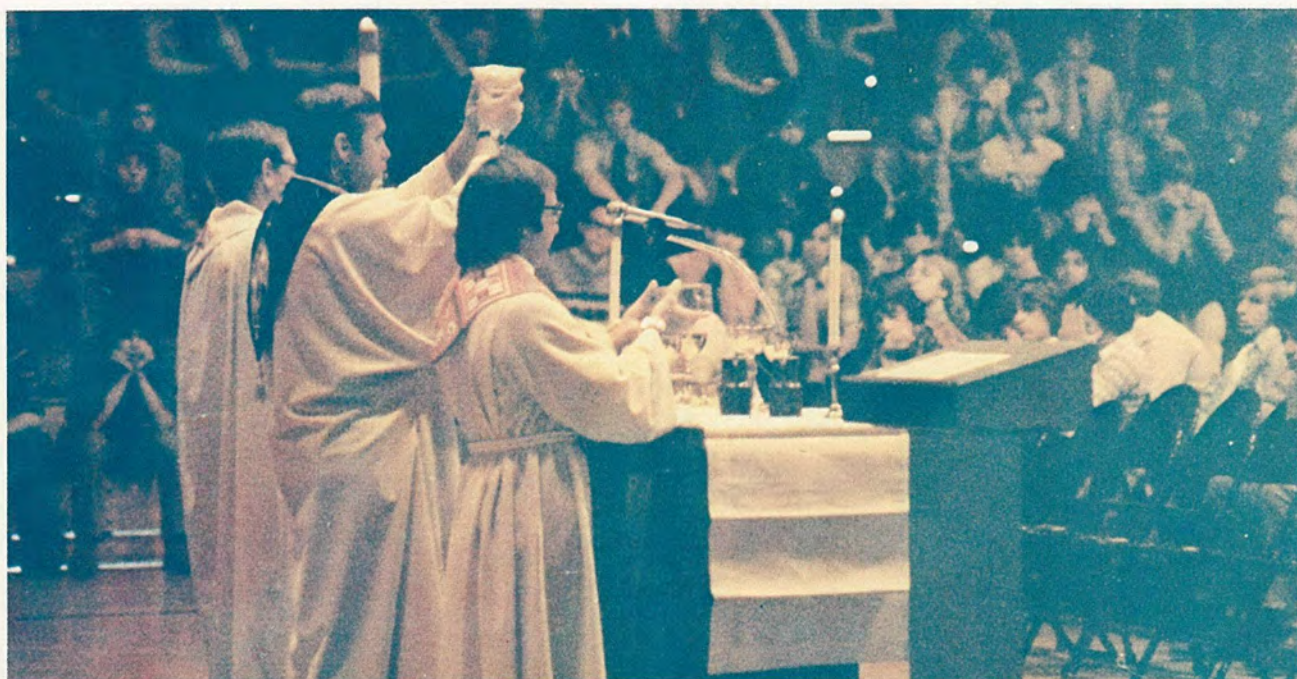

For 1979, the message is that none of these representations alone does justice to the complete St. Edward experience. It takes a combination of all, and much more, to describe what St. Edward High School is really about.

What do you mean I got a "B"?

Events

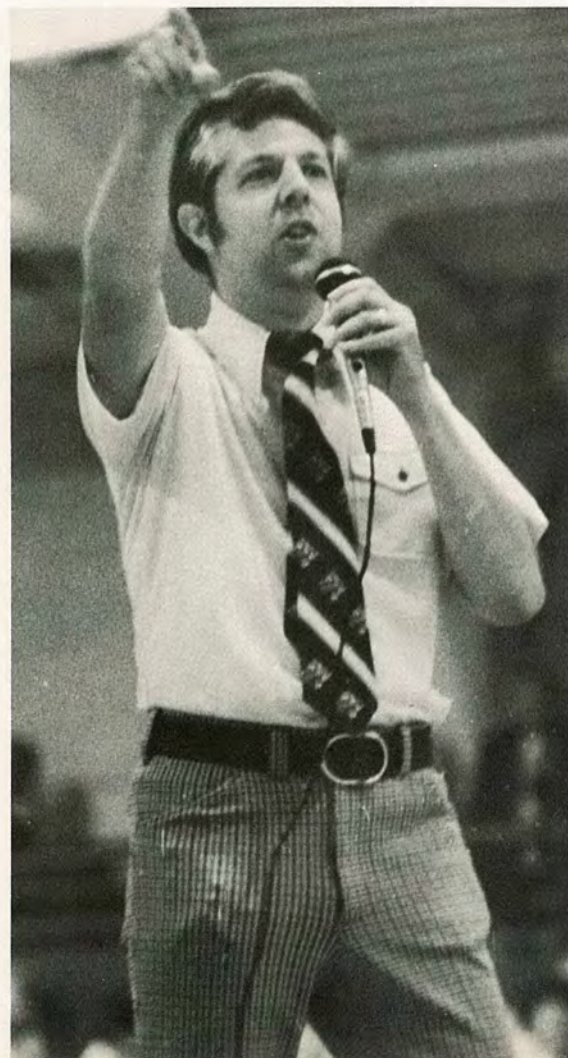

RALLIES

This year, rallies were less numerous than usual, and thus they were appreciated more.

At the rally for the Moeller game, the new set-up, with the band on the stage, and the platform in the middle of the floor, was introduced. The change was worthwhile, and this was one of the best rallies in recent history. Though the Eagles lost to Moeller's Crusaders, 17-14, the spirit of the Screaming Eagles and all the other fans never faded.

The rally for the game vs. St. Joe's was also an exercise in screaming. Ed's alumni Dan Coughlin attended and tried to speak about old times when Joe's was a powerhouse, and the Eagles were pat-sies. He was, of course, roundly booed. Then, at the game on Saturday night, the Eagles showed that times have indeed changed since Coughlin's day, by beating Joe's 20-13.

For all of us, the rallies excelled in quality, if not quantity.

Homecoming

The band was "Airborne", and they certainly flew high for the crowd at the St. Edward 1978-79 Homecoming. The theme was Ancient Greece and Rome with the gym being transformed into a paradise of statuesque fountains, colored lights, and soft music. The general consensus was a great satisfaction with one of the best bands to come to St. Edward's in a long while, "Airborne."

The excitement of the dance was heightened by the previous night's victory by the Eagle gridgers over Walsh Jesuit, 40-12. The big event to climax the evening was the crowning of the 1978 Homecoming Queen, Karen Nash of St. Joseph Academy.

Airborne was live and on stage at the St. Edward Homecoming.

Intramural Football

Some are meant to perform under bright lights. Most, however, are mere mortals, but they too have their opportunity to shine.

Intramurals offer all students the chance to participate in the sport of their choice without all of the rules and regulations which would cramp their style. If nothing else, it helps to relieve them of Saturday night's malted milks and provides a few laughs in the process. Competition is fierce, and allows us to attend to the physical as well as spiritual aspects of our lives on Sunday.

Our Town

The Edwardian Players continued in its tradition of fine dramatic work with Thornton Wilder's classic, Our Town. The St. Edward stage came alive as the residents of Grover's Corners, New Hampshire displayed the thoughts, problems, and emotions of man. Joy and pain, boredom and excitement, love and hate, we see them all at Grover's Corners and in ourselves.

Alex Bevan

In November, Cleveland's own Alex Bevan performed for a Junior Class sponsored concert. Following the opening act, "The Fewbucks Band", the folk-oriented artist played to a somewhat unprepared and unresponsive audience, who expected a different type of show, and were not familiar with the material.

Mr. Bevan's exuberance, however, turned the evening into a successful one, both artistically and financially.

Organizations

Hoop Committee

For every football game, this group spends hours on a hoop which only lasts for a few seconds on the field before it is destroyed. All this time is given to help the spirit of the team and the fans.

Poster Committee

Did you ever wonder who made those posters which are hung on the walls before the sports activities happen? Well, it was this small group of students who showed up after school to paint and put up the spirit raising banners.

Christian Living Committee

Setting up and taking down the chairs for masses in the gym is one of the jobs of the Christian Living Committee. They are also responsible for much more important ones such as preparing the liturgies and other religious activities in school. This includes helping out on the freshman and sophomore retreats. This group, with the help of moderator Father John Blazek, works to make St. Ed's a better place.

Ski Club

The Ski Club is a loose assemblage of winter sportsmen. Every week they traveled to Brandywine to enjoy the winter wind and the snowy slopes. Under the supervision of Mr. Swank and Mr. Burby, the Club provided its members a chance for some exciting winter recreation.

Rally Committee

The Rally Committee is that group of students who put on the skits that they have written and planned for the rallies. They raise the students' spirit to a high level for the big school events. This is a group of uninhibited students in school, who are not afraid to show their genuine spirit.

Flight

Under moderator Brother Joseph Chvala and editor Mike Scanlon, the Flight staff has worked hard, choosing and proofreading the best of the many selections submitted to our literary magazine. This is not easy for them since many good writings cannot be included in this year's edition. This is not the only work to be done, but the staff is sure to get it finished in the best way possible. As always, the publication will show the excellence of St. Edward writing and of the staff which put it together.

Key Club

The Key Club is a service organization that works in the community along with the Kiwanis Club. With the help of the adults in the affiliated club, they organize charitable drives and activities to help the poor. They also work to cheer the sick and elderly with visiting. All of the students at St. Ed's and members of the surrounding communities can take hold of the good example set by the hard working members.

Concessions

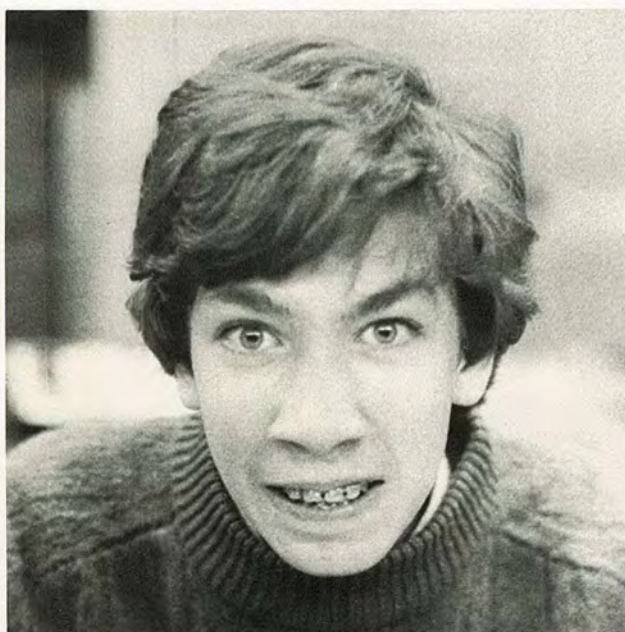

The concessions stand is taken for granted by many in attendance at St. Ed's home games, but it takes a lot of time to prepare the stand before it can be opened. They have to have everything ready before the game, so that they will be ready to serve you when you are ready to be served. Thanks to the concessioners for giving their time to take care of us.

Edsman

The Edsman staff has continued to turn out a factual, informative, and interesting newspaper, the same as in past years. They have covered the happenings in and around school, as well as the music scene and have provided us with interviews. The paper has also provided the students a chance to voice their views. The staff provides the paper every third Friday, which gives the student time to look forward to its next publishing date. The paper provides the students with something useful to do with some of their free time.

Marching Band

Under the direction of Brother Ken Kane, the Marching Band has been ready for almost anything. They have played in both good weather and bad; in warm and in cold. To be ready, they have gone to summer camp and have drilled endlessly. Their performances have been good as a result.

Concert Band

The Concert Band is the part of the band which gives freshmen and sophomores a chance to develop their skills, including playing before an audience. This is their reward for the long hours of practicing. Their improvement can be seen as the year progresses. The members should be proud of their achievements and continue to improve.

Wind Ensemble

The Wind Ensemble is a group of the most talented musicians in the band. They perform music which ranges from pop to classical. This group is often invited to perform outside of school and even out of state. This group shows the way to be the best through hard work combined with talent.

Majorettes

The majorettes added an extra sparkle to the half time shows at this year's football games. They should be thanked for willingly using much of their free time in making their routine perfect, all for us, the loyal fans. They have said that they are proud of taking part in activities with St. Edward and wish to participate as much as possible. The school should profit from their example of dedication and hard work.

Cheerleaders

Varsity Cheerleaders

The cheerleaders have shown that school spirit is not limited to the members of our school, but also can be infused into surrounding schools and communities. These volunteers have shown their spirit by cheering in both good and bad times during the year.

J.V. and Wrestling Cheerleaders

Screaming Eagles

You heard them at every football game this year. They are that big group of students who show their spirit by standing in the bleachers and by cheering. This vocal group shows the team that the student body is there to support them. No matter how big or small the crowd is, they always make themselves heard. This group shows the spirit of the school in the best possible way, directed in support of a school function, as it should be.

Mike Coyle, Dan Moran, James Judge

There are many announcements which all the students should hear. The voice of St. Edward, KSEH, provides these messages with few errors and even a few laughs along the way.

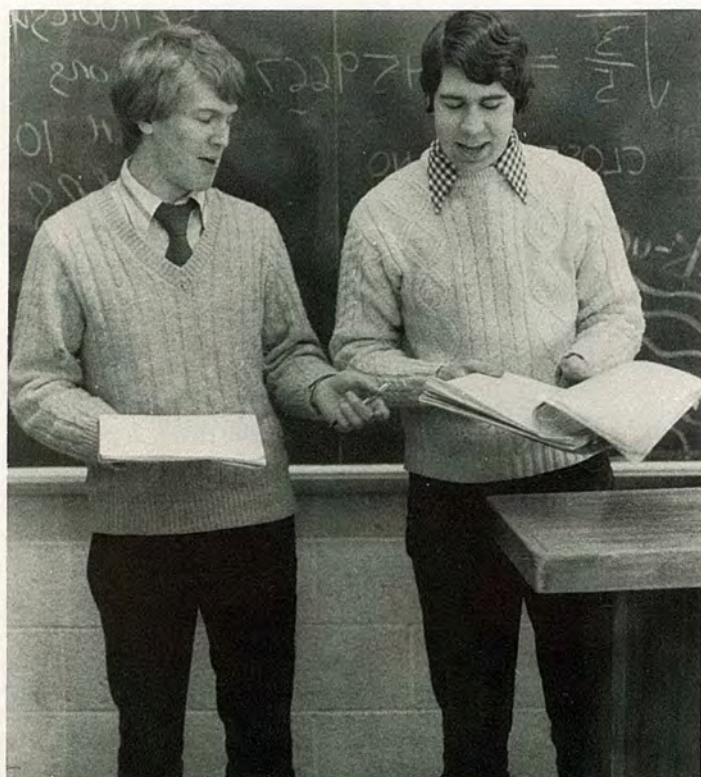

Junior Prom Committee

Debate

This year's debaters have shown the amount of dedication we have come to expect from them. Both as individuals and as a team, they have given their best to continue our school's fine tradition in debating. The team should be thanked and congratulated for both their work and their performances throughout the year, not just the debate season.

Jeff Mondak, Mike Coyle, Charles Hannan, Marty Drebik

JCWA

The Junior Council on World Affairs gives its members a chance to participate in model United Nations meetings. They gain awareness of the world of international politics as well as international problems.

Varsity Football

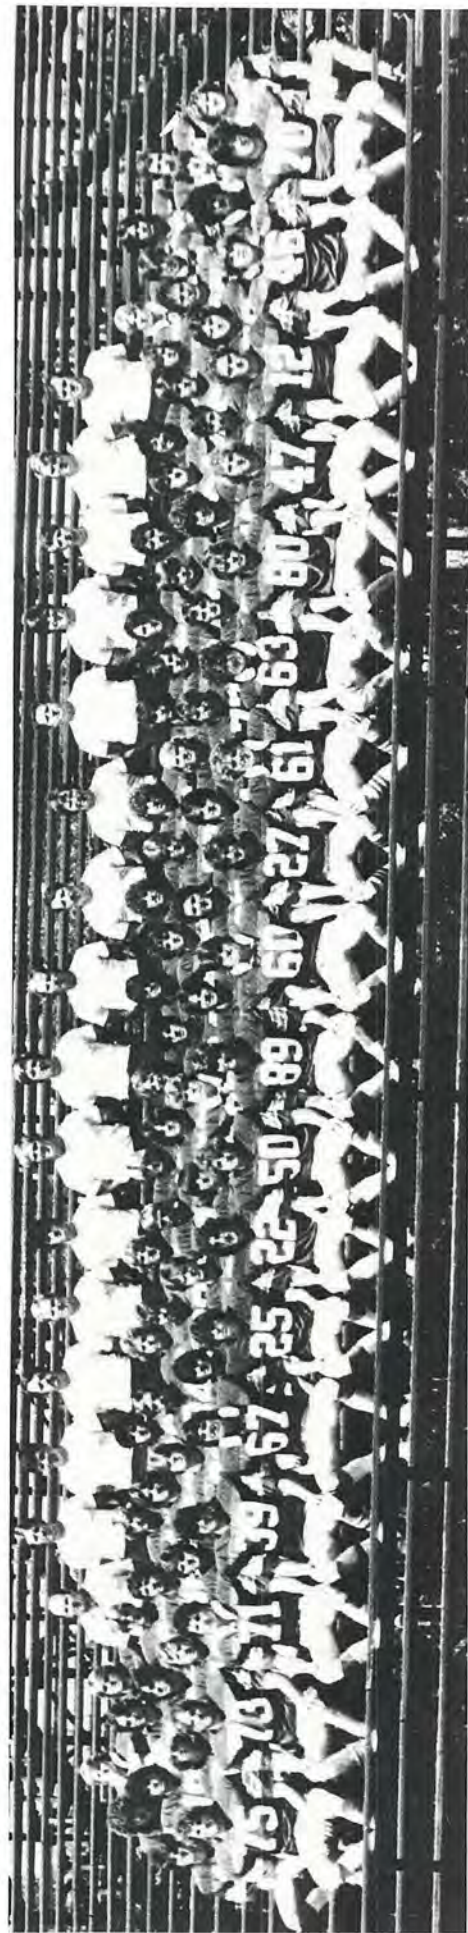

Although not achieving their ultimate goal of a state championship, the St. Edward Eagle gridders of 1978-79 certainly showed that St. Edward still has a respectable and formidable football team.

After early season victories over Shaw, Padua, and Ignatius, the big event of the young season came on September 30th, the rematch with Cincinnati Moeller. Moeller led 10-0 after three quarters. An Ed's TD and the 2-pointer after made the score 10-8. This was the closest the Eagles got through as the teams exchanged touchdowns in the 4th quarter. Several long bombs fell narrowly incomplete for the Eagles in the final seconds, as Ed's lost 17-14.

This was to be our only loss of the season, though, as the gridders defeated St. Joe's, Walsh Jesuit, Lake Catholic, Toledo Scott, and Akron St. Vincent — St. Mary to close out the season.

The real drama of the season came in the race for the state championship via the computer points race. In the end, St. Ed's came in second in their region, falling short of Berea's point total by a mere 10 points.

Varsity Wrestling: 1979 OHIO STATE CHAMPS

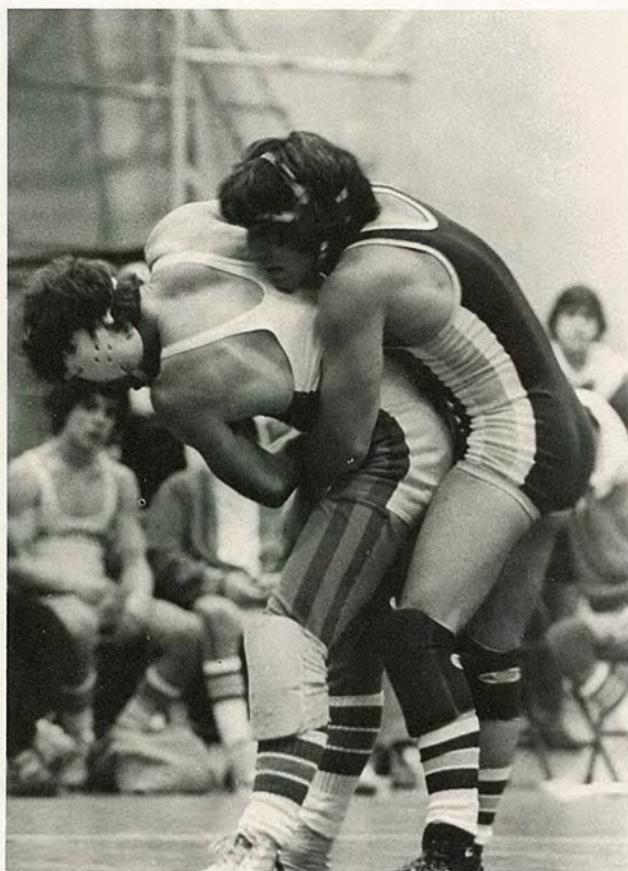

After a successful quest for the 1978 state championship, many critics said that the 1979 Eagle grapplers could not repeat. However, the opposite was proven, as records were broken almost everytime the '79 wrestlers took to the mat.

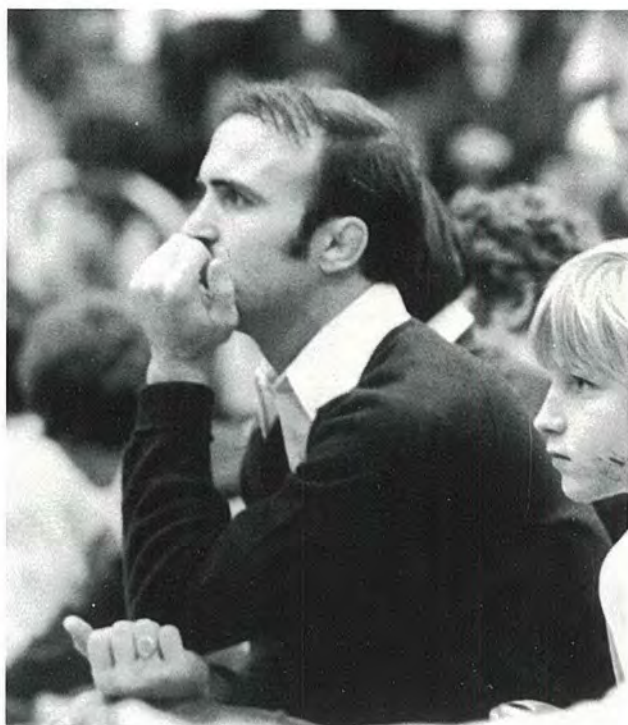

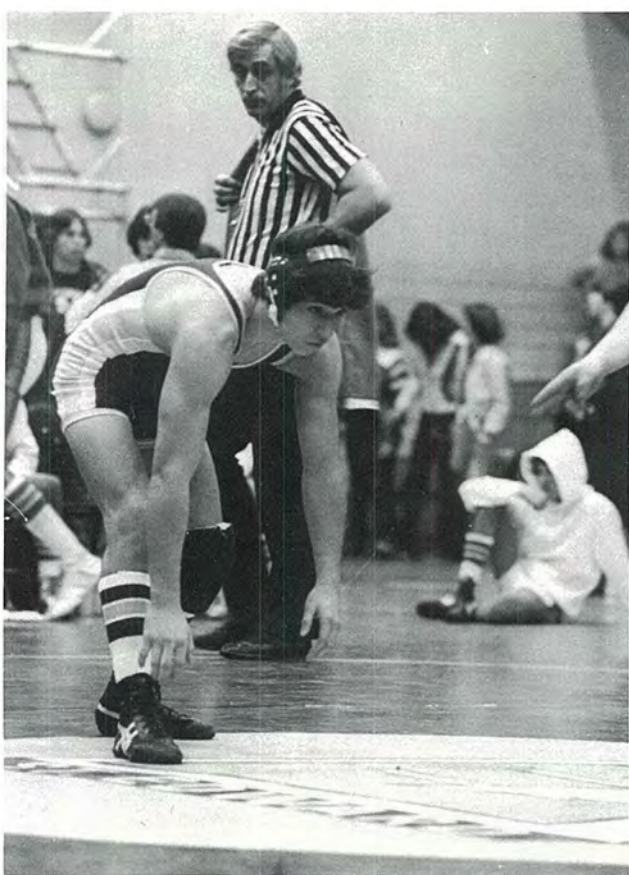

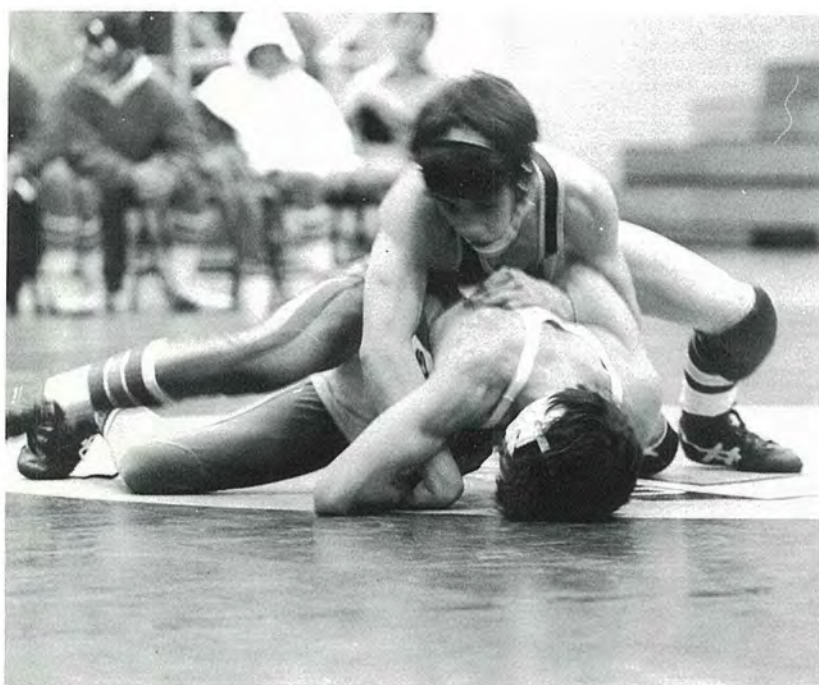

On March 10, the St. Edward wrestlers captured their second straight state championship with a record 148½ points. This point total was a new state record, and more than double that of second-place Nordonnia.

The prospects for a successful wrestling future look good. Of 148½ points, more than half were scored by underclassmen. Coach Ferguson's 1979 wrestlers were another fine example of a St. Edward tradition — excellence.

VARSITY BASEBALL

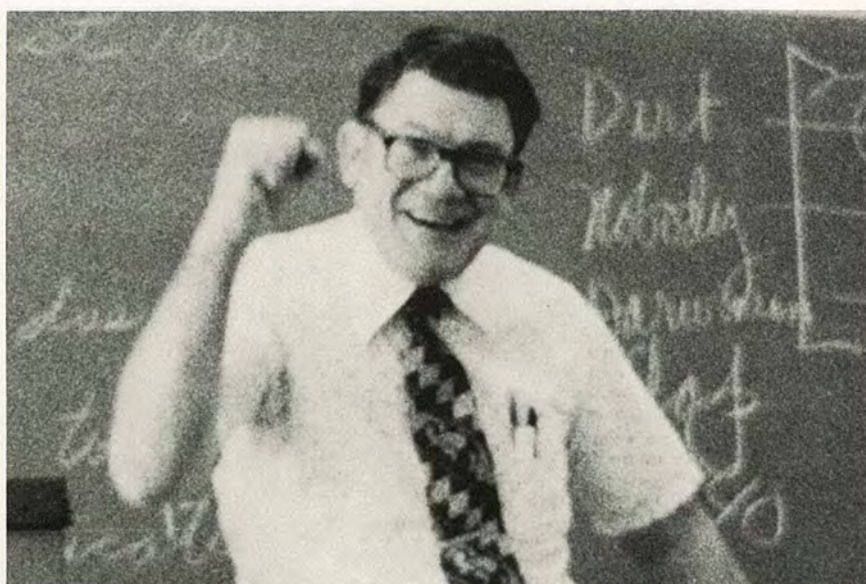

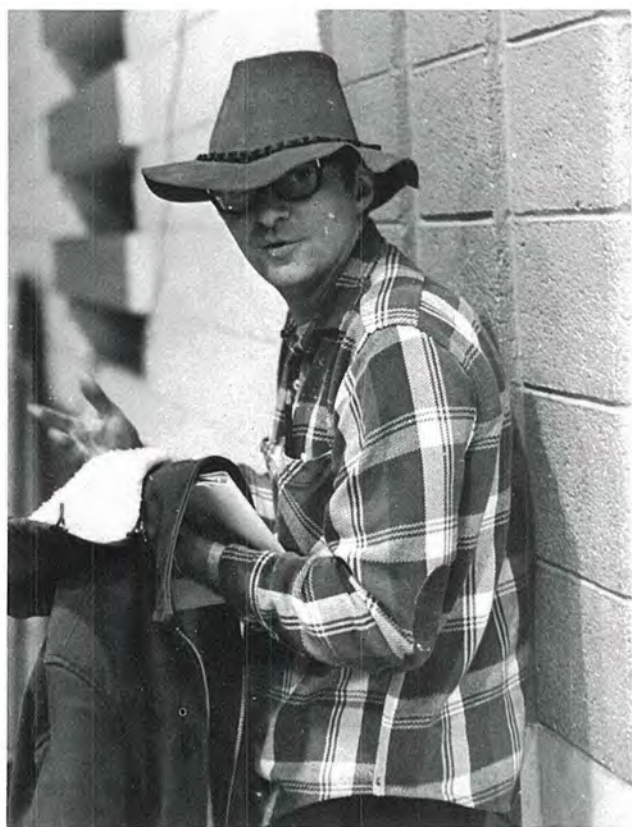

The student body is St. Ed's, but the faculty is the heart. Without the heart, the body dies rapidly. As the heart is necessary to the body, the parts of the heart are indispensable to the whole.

The Science Department gives us something to think about. Our ideas take a logical form through the help of the English Department. The Math Department saves us from calculating our bills on our fingers. The Theology Department gives our lives direction while Guidance supplies assistance on our way.

The Fine Arts Department imparts upon us an appearance of culture. Through communicating, the Language department assists us to understand other peoples. Physical Education keeps our bodies healthy and strong. The Business Department bolsters our financial health. The Administration holds the rest together as a cohesive unit.

With this faculty, how can the student body go wrong? Joined together, these individual parts work as a whole, keeping the student body alive and well. With this in mind, how can the students get by without respecting the faculty?
