The St. Edward shield is rich in symbolism and tradition. This seal signifies the ideals and philosophy of St. Edward.

The wavy lines at the bottom signify Lake Erie, on whose shores St. Edward lies. In the upper left-corner of the emblem is the classic book with the word VERITAS. This represents St. Edwards academic aims. The dove-topped scepter of Saint Edward the Confessor symbolizes the patron saint of the school. This school is also named after Bishop Edward F. Hoban. The dove expresses the inspiration and guidance of the Holy Spirit in all of the school's endeavors. The Anchor of Hope emphasizes the development and formation of Christian Hope. The Cross is superimposed over the whole shield.

This shows the significance of the shield of St. Edward High School, a school dedicated to the education of Catholic young men by the brothers of Holy Cross and the dedicated Christian teachers.

The small shield that follows each article symbolizes what St. Edward stands for. Spirit, a sense of pride in everything we do and how we do them ...

All The Way

All The Way. Three simple words that capture the essence of the St. Edward spirit. It is a fact, not a theme for the yearbook.

Edsmen have become Number One because we have never settled for anything less. An ordinary effort is not enough; we strive for the extraordinary. When we set out to do something, we do it All The Way.

St. Edward students prove themselves time and again academically. We strive for excellence. We go All The Way taking advantage of the finest education possible. Our sports teams go all out every week. On the day of the game we don't hope for a victory, we expect it. A loss is not contemplated until it becomes a reality and then we go All The Way to make sure it doesn't happen again.

While academics is the primary focus at St. Edward, there is also the secondary focus on extracurricular activities.

Extracurriculars let us experience the spiritual as well as the cultural atmosphere outside the classroom. We go All The Way to make our years at St. Edward the most memorable times of our lives.

It is the expression of the feeling of every student who walks the halls of St. Edward; the sense of pride in everything that we do, the knowledge that when the mighty Eagles set out to do something, it gets done, and done All The Way. This is the Spirit of St. Edward. This "Eagle Spirit" cannot be defined with words; it can only be seen in actions. The following pages are dedicated to these actions. They will be a reminder of some of the things that we have done in the past year, and how we did them: All The Way. 🦅

Inciting the loyal Eagle Partisans, head majorette, Gayle Dulovics conducts a halftime performance at the Padua Bruins game.

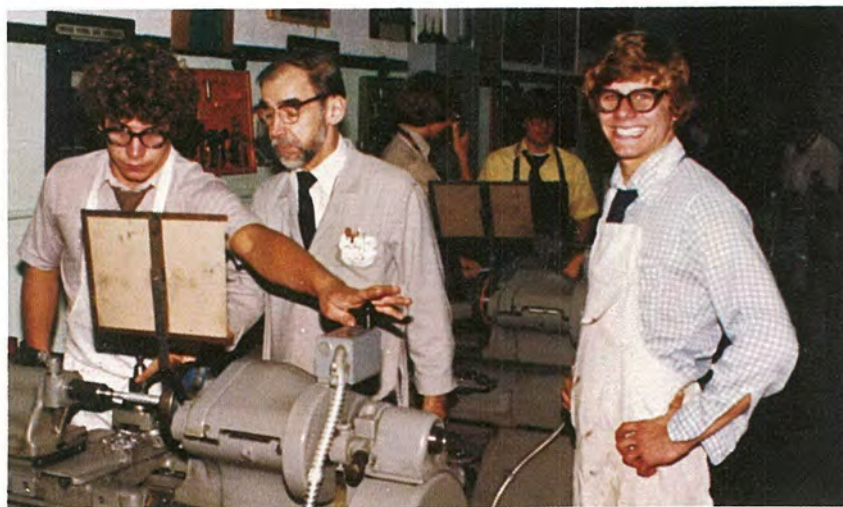

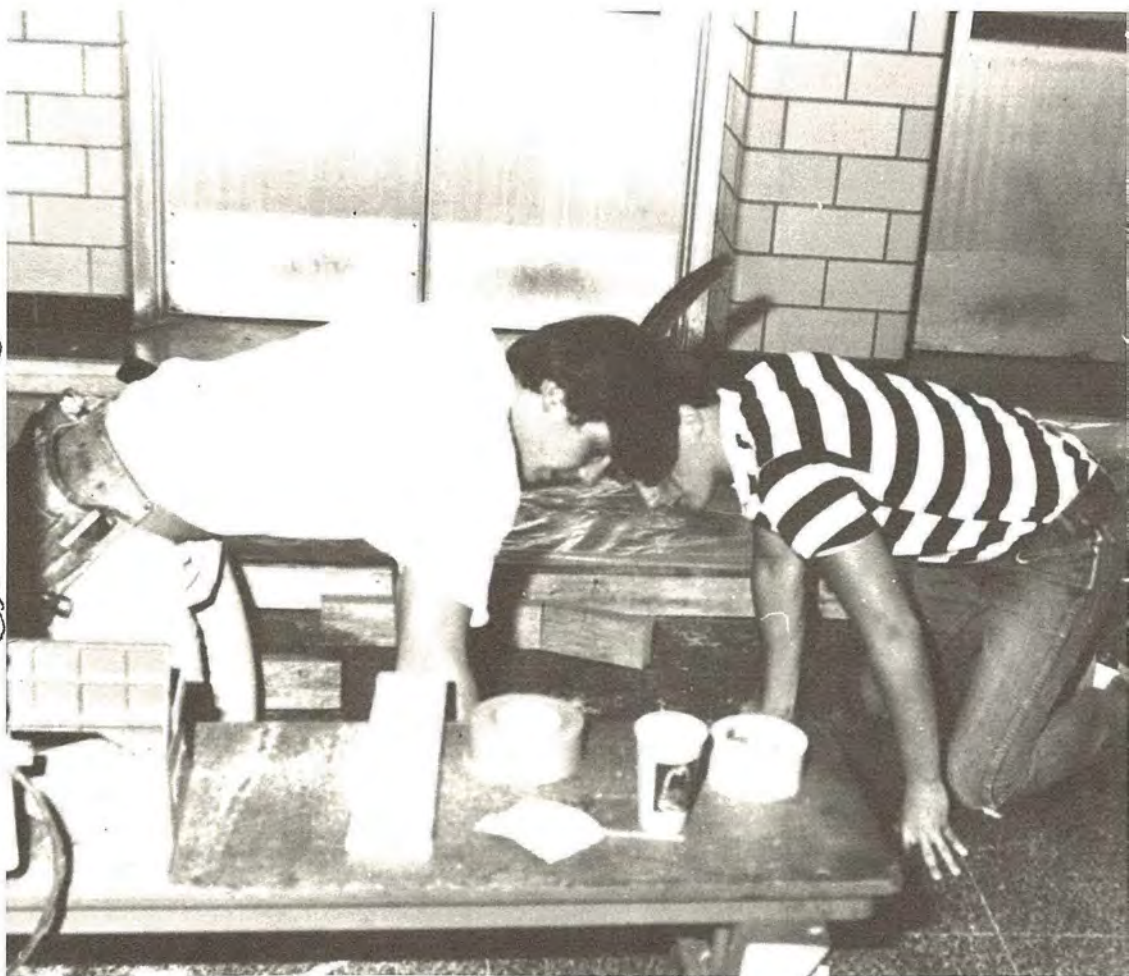

Exuberant upperclassmen lead by senior Tom Nagy, go All The Way in showing the Spirit of the Class of 1982.

Located in our beloved chapel the statue of Saint Edward the Confessor comforts troubled students in times of doubt and conflict.

Thirteenth period metal shop brings a smile to senior Bob Carrier as Br. Leo instructs Joe Charvat on the proper operation of the lathe.

Seniors Pat E. Patton and Mark McLaughlin construct the moat for Camelot. It was to no avail as it would not hold water.

The excitement of pre-Homecoming becomes too much for seniors John McCafferty, Bill Kahl, John Ardy, and Tom Rossi.

All The Way . . .

Besides the great education received at St. Edward, many students have a life outside of the academic wing. This section of the yearbook is to acknowledge the fact that extracurricular activities can round off a person's personality. These take much talent and dedication, but they can be very rewarding. Other students have well paying jobs with which they support their weekend festivities. Extracurriculars in or out of school can keep you from being a "bump on a log."

. . . In Student Life.

Knights In White Satin

It was rather obvious some didn't know how to dance. Others weren't that excited that Ed's won its first homecoming game in a few years. But all had a good time Saturday night, October 10, in our gym.

The evening went off without a hitch. "Champion," the band for the evening, put on an excellent show.

The crepe paper that was hung across the gym didn't last long. Someone got hold of a strand and within minutes the colored paper was wrapped around the tables, chairs, dates, and strewn about the floor.

Our Homecoming Queen was the regal Miss JoAnn Aerni. Her royal highness hails from St. Joseph Academy. She was accompanied by Miss Kim Labadie of Magnificat, Miss Chris Birt of St. Augustine, and Miss Kimmell Rankin of Erieview.

As soon as JoAnn and her court left the floor after their spotlight slow dance, Tom "Boss" Rossi grabbed the spotlight and the microphone for his thank you speech.

It was Jim East's turn to snatch the microphone. We all "hidee-hidee-hoed" as Jim told us the story 'bout Minnie the Moocher!

Not many people noticed Joe Sylvestro singing back-up vocals in the dark corner of the stage. The only problem was that Joe's mike was turned off. Joe didn't know. Joe had a good time at Homecoming.

It was quite an action-packed evening. Eventually everyone left with smiles, hoping that the party would be as good as the dance. 🍷

Enter ye into the days of olde, where courtly love and chivalry take precedence.

JoAnn Aerni smiles, and smiles, and smiles.

Catching up on current events, Junior Dennis Fisher reads the KSEH bulletin board.

“Hitting the Books”

The routine school day is just that — routine. Same faces, same classes, same lunch, same teachers. The daily grind. But there are things which at least attempt to break up the monotony. Take for instance, the rallies. The rallies are the only thing in this school that gives us 45 minutes to make noise, or as Rich Gray puts it, “get wierd”. All in all, this year’s rallies were pretty good. Although the teachers can be classified as routine, their manners are definitely not routine. Such as Sr. Marguerite’s “tags, tags, tags”, Br. Bennett’s museum, Mr. Duffy could conservatively be described as a character, and, Br. David’s physics revelations will forever remain “cosmic”. But, you must admit the mood of the teacher during class will greatly affect whether or not you fall asleep.

34-26-34? Sound like the measurements of a model you know? Actually, it’s the combination to your locker. Sometimes it might be a pain to open or keep it clean, but without it, where would you keep books? Also, where else could you relieve your interior decorating whims?

So, you can see that life at St. Edward is never very dull. Sometimes it is “routine” but never very dull. ☞

In Health class, Junior Mark Fodor observes his neighbor for an answer about the effects of alcoholism.

"Let's see, who in row one would like five points?" — MR. DUFFY.

"This is the first time you've ever seen anything weighed correctly!" Br. David boasts.

St. Ed's student body breaks out in screams when Eagleman, Rich Gray, leaps a tall railing in a single bound.

At the rally for the Lake Catholic game Coach Flaherity sends his team in search of a pink cougar.

Kevin Doherty is caught lying down on the job while a Lake Catholic Cougar attacks Ron Weisenseel.

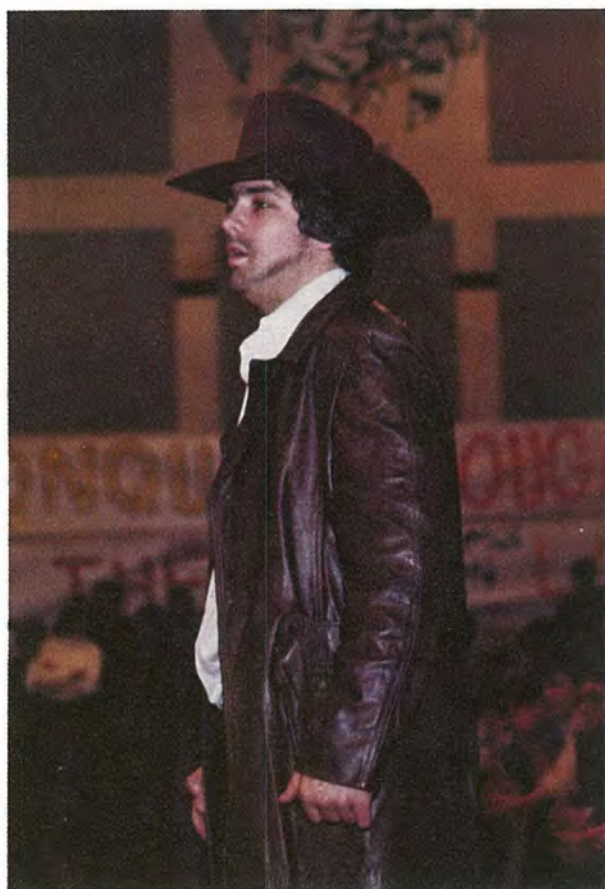

Spirit Flies High

The student body showed its zealous passion for victory in the rallies, which bring a sense of unity to our school. This year's were especially arousing, from the Crusader Knights crashing through victory signs to the cougar of Lake Catholic wrestling Illinois Jones to the floor. From eagleman diving 30 feet into a strategically placed porta-pit, to the controversial eagleman fire 'em up speech at the Moeller Rally. Never let it be said that the Eagles lack spirit. Believe it or not, the athletic department owes much credit for their success to the vocal and psychological support they received from the students. 🦅

John Ardy psyches up the student body during the rally.

Ron Weisenseel contemplates the challenge of the pink cougar.

“A Time For God”

“Love God with your whole heart, love your neighbor as yourself.” These words of Jesus Christ encompass the whole idea behind St. Edward High School.

Many students give up hours of their time to participate in various Christian Service programs. These programs, headed by Br. Lou, are extremely important because they show our Christian values in action. The “Big Buddy” program allows students to befriend young inner city children. There is also an old age home program in which the students keep the elderly people company and participate in their social events.

Retreats are held at various times throughout the year to deepen the spiritual growth of the St. Edward community. Senior retreat is a moving weekend experience and highly recommended by all seniors who have attended.

Communion services are held in the chapel everyday, as well as a mass at 7:45 a.m. On “Special Days” class masses are held to celebrate the Eucharist as a school community.

Even to the smallest details as prayer before every class and crucifixes in every room, St. Edward revolves around the religious atmosphere.

This Christian spirit makes us the great community that we are! ☒

Senior, James Brady spends a quiet moment in the chapel during a busy day.

On the Feast of St. Edward, Chaplain Fr. Burg celebrates the Senior class mass.

The Grief Ministry program, aimed at helping students deal with sorrow, is lead by Miss Torrence.

Gregg Kinzel envies Giovanni's lunch.

“The Bucks Stop Here”

“One plain, on the double.” If you have ever been in St. Edward, this phrase isn’t a new one. It seems that the cafe has certain personality traits that no one can forget, the sweet smell of warm cookies in the morning, looking up and seeing a dozen strips of butter on the ceiling. The most common trait of all, the screaming and yelling amongst friends. All of these make up the usual cafeteria atmosphere.

Between the losing of your money in the coke and candy machines, and the endless lines for food, by the time you have returned to your seat (by this time someone has replaced your good chair with a broken one) the bell is about to ring for the beginning of the next class. However school would not be the same without this special time for lunch. ☒

It is a common sight as Tim Lanza yells to a friend 300 ft. across the cafe.

Students stand in line to junk up before afternoon classes.

The junior class councils of the area schools meet to discuss important issues.

“After Hours”

When the bell rings at 2:37, students race to their lockers and make a mad dash for their buses which will take them to all parts of Cleveland and surrounding suburbs.

There are also a number of students still wandering the halls of St. Ed's. Students stay for many reasons. Some stay to work, practice, or just lounge around. Activities like football, basketball, or the yearbook meet almost every night after school.

However, amidst the students afterschool activity, there is a group of students whose presence is strongly requested. This meeting is detentions. Drop in sometime if you do not have anything else to do — after school. ☒

Starting their massive job, the homecoming ceiling committee including Seniors Jerry Trazek, John Cvetic, and John McCafferty all give a helping hand.

The JV football team practices one of their many plays.

“Earning The Big Bucks”

High school life, apart from being a boom in knowledge, can become quite hectic. In this age of inflation and recession, it has become harder for people to make ends meet, especially with the rising cost of tuition. Some students have sought to compensate for this by holding part-time jobs to ease the financial burden on their parents.

Some Saint Edward students try to fit their work schedules around their academic and extra-curricular schedules. They work almost any time: after school, late at night, before school, and yes, even weekends. In St. Ed's there are students that range from squeakyclean dishwashers to fast talking salesmen.

These jobs are as diverse as they are common. Students are not too picky when it comes to accepting jobs. Some are salesmen at area sporting goods stores. Other students take advantage of the large dishwashing market open throughout the year. Some work at local grocery stores, keeping the stores stocked with food and drink. Yet, others work at the Golden Arches or any similar fast-food chain. No matter what the job, our students keep themselves busy outside the school while filling their pockets with gold. ☒

Playing their war games, Senior Joe Makovicka plans an attack on Matt Irmiter.

Finding the solution to Rubik's cube could be a full time hobby for Senior Gino Tedesco.

“Spending Spare Time”

What is a hobby? A hobby is a time consuming, spare time activity a person relishes. Students at St. Ed's steal time from doing homework to spend on hobbies instead. These are anything a student pours his effort and money into. It is doing your own thing — for fun.

Many students find the challenge in collecting old novelties such as stamps, coins, books, or records; or the newer novelties such as beer cans or football or baseball cards. Some students prefer making models, building with wood, or painting or working on a car. If collecting or creating is not their bag, some can enjoy a sport or two. These can range from ice skating and skiing to biking and boating.

There are a few who mistake dating and picking up girls on the weekend for a hobby.

No matter what the hobby, flying model air planes or deep sea diving, there is probably someone at St. Ed's doing it. 🧩

"EVERYONE GETS A CHANCE"

Sometimes the busy schedule of school and work are so demanding that some students don't find the time to join any organized sports. The perfect solution for a student in the above category is intramurals.

Football, basketball, and bowling make up the intramural program. All three sports had a good number of teams that were very competitive.

The football season, which began early in October, running all the way through December, was a fun and exciting time. The two playoff teams were the T.N.T.S.S. and F.U.B.A.R. The champions were determined in a brutal championship game — the winner being F.U.B.A.R.

The basketball season, which had a large turnout, met every Tuesday nights for Seniors and Thursday nights for Juniors.

Finally, if you were at Mahals Bowling Lanes on a Monday afternoon, you would see the bowling teams competing.

It would be unfair not to give credit to the very dedicated moderators, referees, and officials. Without these people there would be no possibility of having a successful intramural season. 🏀

Going for a rebound, Senior Nick Zullo tries to outjump the crowd.

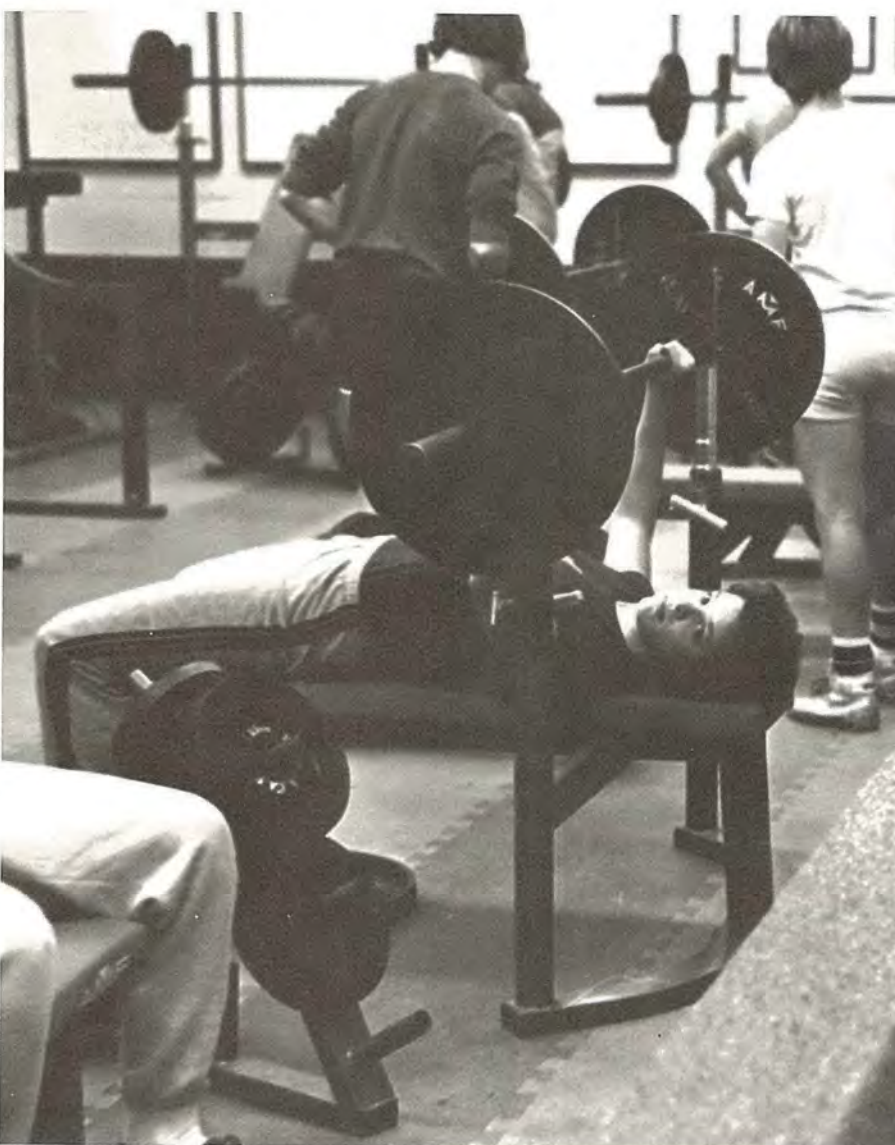

During the championship game, Senior John Marks punts the ball away for T.N.T.S.S.

Showing an unusual style of keeping the ball airborne for 20 feet, Senior Pat Greller bowls intramurals every Monday afternoon at Mahall's.

After stealing his mother's broom, Senior Kevin Doherty steps on the ice at Winterhurst to play Broom hockey.

Senior Tim Healy takes a jog around the track.

For fun, or for an alternate means of transportation, biking seems to be the answer for Freshman Dave Caja.

"Staying In Shape For Fun"

The bright lights that greet you as you come in make you squint until your eyes can adjust. Although they call it morning, you would swear it was night because of the dark and cold outside. When you lie back, the bench feels soft. It reminds you of your bed which is where you know you should be. When you feel that bar in your hands and realize you can lift it, when you know that you could not do it two weeks ago, then you feel good. The clank and bangs of cast iron plates assure you that you are back home again . . . in the St. Ed's weight room.

Weightlifting is a sport many Edsman enjoy. The most fanatical of this group are the "Early Risers." They struggle in between 6:30 and 8:30 A.M. to get a work out in before school. Many claim it strengthens the mind as well as the body. Self-discipline is important in achieving success. Self-confidence is another important benefit. Edsman lift not only in the morning but around the clock.

Weightlifting is not the only recreational sport students can enjoy. Jogging, tennis, handball, racquetball, skiing, cycling, sailing, fishing, swimming, and many other sporting activities which offer enjoyment and physical fitness. Local leagues offer Gaelic football, touch and flag football, basketball, baseball, and broomhockey. ☺

Lining up for a shot, Senior Mark Girard enjoys playing pool.

Students such as Senior Bob Whirtanen, wishing to build muscles spend time in the weight room.

“Encore! Encore!”

As the lights on stage go up you begin to travel back in time into the Orient. The time is 2 years after World War II. The place is a small island off of Japan, the name is Okinawa. This is the setting for the fall play, “The Teahouse of the August Moon,” presented by the Edwardian players. Sakini, the narrator, was played by freshman Harold Legg. Senior Pat Walsh played Captain Fisby. His commanding officer Colonel Purdy III, was played by Senior John McLoughlin. Playing Lotus Blossum was Lisa Motsis, and playing Miss Higa Jiga was Dawn Klepek, who are both from St. Joseph Academy. Magnificat and St. Augustine contributed greatly also.

The marching band stole the show at all football halftimes. They contributed to the cheering and after the football games ... Well we'll leave that unsaid. The marching band has been a strong part in the history of St. Ed's. Leading the band this year was Senior Pat Walsh. Assisting Pat was Junior Bill Thewes. The practicing was tiresome but through the rain all of their time and effort they put into it, paid off. The marching band marches on with Br. Kenneth Kane, C.S.C. and Mr. Vernon Stover leading the way. ☞

Before getting back to work on the play, Terry Kennedy, Linda Ostrowski and Bill Mahon take a dinner break.

The Geisha girls, led by Lisa Motsis, do their thing in the Teahouse of the August Moon.

During the dress rehearsal of the Teahouse of the August Moon, Dawn Klepek warns Pat Walsh to watch himself.

Marching with the band, Sophomore Bill Webb performs with his saxophone.

The chorus practices their music under the direction of Mr. Vernon Stover.

"Getting "Weird" The Eagle Way"

Only two adjectives are available which can depict this year's Eagle events: "weird" and "crazy". We were treated to numerous happenings, such as a few outlandish outfits seen at the Moeller game: the most "pampered" senior came in his rubber pants and safety pins; and some birdbrained junior donned his grandmother's old green feather hat. (Spirit? maybe)

We witnessed Eagleman's controversial address at a rally, inspiring fellow Edsmen to "get weird" with him at the Moeller game. An on-field vocal brawl occurred at halftime of the Ignatius game (won by the Eagles, of course). The cheerleaders returned (proof that the school administration is not totally male-chauvinistic). Eagleman risked his life by diving off a balcony, saved only because someone forgot to put away an old Port-a-Pit. Mr. Flaherty (yes, Mr. Flaherty) appeared on the NFL Today. The football team demonstrated its brawn by running and crashing its way through a brick wall (as seen at the Moeller rally.)

Mayor George Voinovich and Mayor Tony Sinagra were "canned" by the Key Club. The soccer team had a winning season (this was an unusual year.) The band received some respect. Bishop Pilla paid us a visit. We were shown a new approach to drinking milk: out of your boot. And finally, a new fad was introduced for playing ping-pong: when short on equipment, use a two-by-four as a net and perma-bounds as paddles. It works, try it.

Though these are only a few examples of hundreds, as you can imagine, this was a crazy year. ☘

“WHO KNOWS . . . ?”

Who knows what the future will hold. Here are some profound questions that have yet to be answered . . .

Will the eagle on the flagpole ever be found? Will Hooter ever return? Will they ever put the doors back on the bathrooms? Will Fr. Burg ever get a real crew? When will the Packers ever have a winning season again? Will Mr. Hitsman ever win a Homeroom collection? Will Br. Peter ever get a real dollar changer? Will Br. Lou ever master the art of short conversation? Will Ms. Torrence ever reach the drinking fountain? Will Br. Joe ever realize that there is no third word down on page 187? Will Br. Edward ever walk to the Lounge? Will Sr. Margeurite find her tags? Will Mr. Duffy ever have a Mr. Thompson day? Will Mr. Pintwala ever convert to the Garanimal system? Will Mr. Battista ever return to Cuba?

. . . Maybe someday we will receive answers to these mind boggling questions. ☒

“Breaking the Routine”

With most people and schools “special” days are few and far between. At St. Ed’s the ordinary days seem to be the minority. It seems this year was destined to go down in St. Edward history as being special. A big reason for this certain destiny is because the class of 1982 became Seniors.

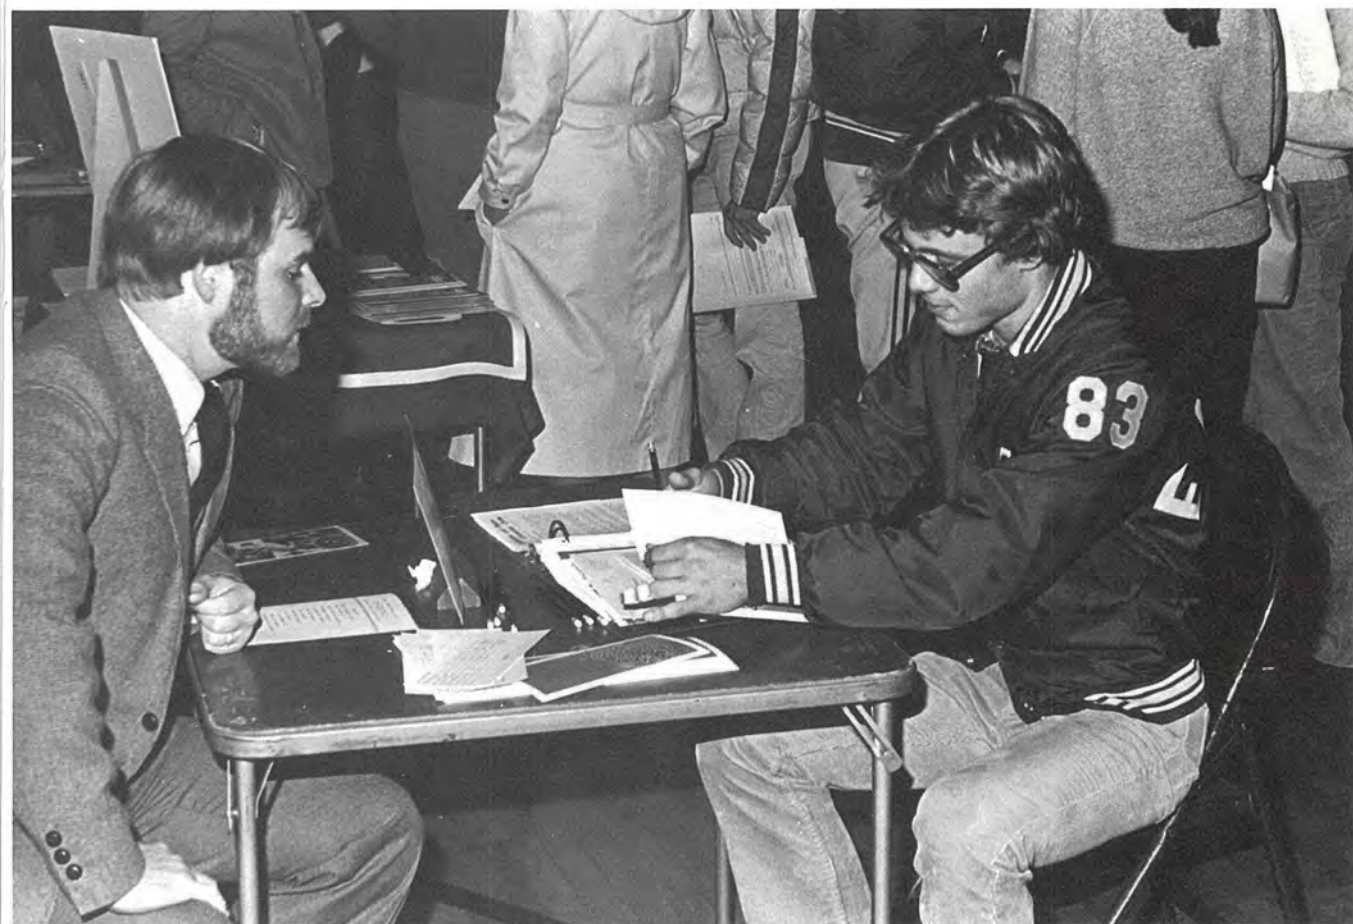

Many important people came to St. Ed’s for one reason or another. All Pro tackle Doug Dieken and International Key Club President Al Prince came to help collect and motivate people during the Thanksgivng canned food drives.

Bishop Anthony Pilla came to celebrate a special mass for the installation of the Eucharistic Ministers.

We don’t have to have “outsiders” to have a day declared special. The rallies, which were some of the best ever known, always brought a special feeling of school spirit and pride to the student body. The planning and setting up for Homecoming, which turned out to be very successful, proved that the “special” days come from the hard work and clever ideas which are inside many very special Eaglemen! ❧

All The Way . . .

St. Edward maintains a strong level of Christian awareness and development toward the students who pass through the halls every day. This awareness is carried out in practice and training that is associated in athletics to the highest degree of skill and excellence.

The Eagles have established a winning tradition, in victory and defeat. For no matter what the outcome of an athletic event, we know a 100% effort was given.

The student body gives the loyal support needed in every situation strengthening the athletic teams with cheers of hope and victory. Together, they form a winning effort, an All The Way attitude in the hearts of fans and teammates alike.

Nothing New, 8-2

The 1981 St. Edward Football Team opened the season in the usual position as one of the area's finest teams. The senior class of 1982 led a high-spirited squad into a tough schedule.

In the first game they played against the Strongsville Mustangs in Strongsville. St. Eds battled in the mud and rain with the stubborn upset-minded Mustang team. Frank Waite scored the only touchdown of the night as the Eagles came away with a 7-0 victory.

The home opener at Finnie stadium the following week brought the Trojans of Findlay to town. The offense finally opened up as the gridders achieved victory number two 29-6.

The third game was home against the pathetic busing-stricken East High School. St. Eds rolled over the Blue Bombers 35-0.

In week number 4, our Eagles made a trip to the Glass Bowl at the University of Toledo to face St. Francis. Our powerful defense rose to the occasion holding the Knights scoreless. The offense racked-up 21 points and the gridders came away with a 4-0 record, and a fourth place state ranking.

On the next Saturday night, St. Edward headed for Mentor to face the Cougars of Lake Catholic. Everyone had revenge on their minds. Who could forget the 16-15 loss on homecoming day last year. Although Lake scored first, St. Eds wasn't about to ruin another perfect record. The Eagles fought back and Bill Kahl ran it in in the middle of the fourth quarter to ice the fifth straight victory 15-7.

Homecoming 1981 saw the Bruins of Padua invading. Our defense stagnated a lack-luster Bruin offense and Padua became the sixth victim and the fourth shut-out 20-0.

The high-light of the season came on October 17th when the Wildcats of St. Ignatius came to Finnie stadium for the annual clash. This was obviously a better team than the Eagles saw at Municipal Stadium last year. Ignatius surprised the Eagle fans with their intensity. It probably was the hardest hitting game of the season. The Wildcats kicked a fieldgoal early, but the Eagles overcame them in a 7-3 thriller.

In week eight, Eric Pennsylvania's Cathedral Prep came to town to face a defense that had previously given up only 16 points in seven games. Erie's offense unexpectedly came to life, however, scoring 19 points in the first half. But the Eagles also had their biggest offensive show of the year dumping the Preps 41-27.

Our record was then 8-0 and the stage was set for the return of the fighting Crusaders from Cincinnati Moeller. Again billed as the nation's finest high school team. St. Eds found out all too well just how awesome Moeller really was. The Crusaders took an early lead and they never looked back, displaying an offensive attack unlike any the Eagles had yet seen. The first taste of defeat in nine games was hard to swallow as Moeller stretched their winning streak to 42 games, downing St. Edward 42-8.

History seemed to be repeating itself. As it was in 1980, the gridders, ranked second in the Cleveland area, brought an 8-1 record into the season finale against the area's number 1 team, the Vikings of St. Joseph. St. Edwards could not afford a loss here if they had any hopes for a state play-off berth. A powerful St. Joe offense tallied 24 points before Kelvin Farmer could score the only Eagle touchdown. The Vikings cruised into the play offs with a 10-0 record, ending the 1981 campaign with a 30-6 victory. For the second straight year St. Eds ended a fit-fine season falling short of a play off spot. ☒

JV'S Refuse To Lose

It sure felt good! After last year's embarrassing loss to St. Ignatius, it sure felt good when the junior varsity team avenged themselves by beating the Wildcats 16-14. This was the highlight of a very fine Eagle football season.

Our JVS went undefeated in eight games. This is a feat that few teams are able to do. The Gold Rush scored 119 points in eight games and the Green Wall only gave up an average of nine points a game. With this team moving up to the varsity, the future sure looks very promising for the Big Green Machine. 🍀

Running For Fun And Sport

The cross country team was not expected to go anywhere this year. After losing their top four runners from the varsity squad, the expectations were very low.

Under the direction of Coach O'Brien, the team began workouts early in July. Intense training, one-hundred mile weeks, interval workouts, and two-a-day practices all combined to carry the Eagle harriers to a state birth on November 7.

Co-captains Mike Carl and Dave Tracy led the team both on and off the course. Together, they directed fund raising efforts, and decorating the locker room complete with stereo, refrigerator, oriental rug, dining table, and chairs.

Seniors Dan Arnold, Mike Carl, Dave Pauer, and Dave Tracy alternated at first position throughout the year. Carl paced the pack at Districts, taking an seventeenth over all, and Pauer led the team at State with a forty-eighth place earning both runners All-Sun Post honors.

Dan Arnold was the teams M.V.P. for his consistent performance through the mid-season.

The 1982 edition of the St. Edward Track Team was one of surprises. This year's squad made up greatly of seniors and sophomores, has to prove they can fill the shoes of last year's team.

The strong point of the trackers will be the distance events. It will be led by Seniors Mike Carl, Pete Leneghan, John Joyce, Dave Pauer, and two-time state qualifier, Jason Fox. They got their backup strength from Junior Pat Nortz and a strong sophomore team led by Chris Botson, John Dailey, Bill Bruening, and Tony Bebie.

Head Coach Tom Jenkins is looking for a sprint coach so he can concentrate on the field events. Coach Mike O'Brien will continue to work with the distance men.

If the effort and dedication continue, St. Edward should field another excellent track team. ❧

Dedication And Hard Work

Swimmers take their marks in a duel meet at Tri-C West.

Though their 5-5 record doesn't indicate it, the St. Edward swim team had another good season. Three of the five meets that the swimmers lost could have been wins, but they were edged out in some close races.

The swim team was paced by the strong swimming of Mark Hartzell and Jim (Sammy) Lelko. For these two swimmers, the swim season ended with the State and District competitions. These two were the core of our free-stylers. Tom Dunn was the team's Mr. Everything. He would swim any event that Coach Blair Chirdon would ask him to.

The constant urging of Br. James Everett kept the swimmers in excellent shape. The highlight of the season was the University Relays, where the team placed second, just ahead of Cleveland Heights and arch-rival St. Ignatius.

This year's football managers at St. Edward consisted of a crew of several young men who spent six days a week working on the equipment. This crew was lead by senior head manager Sean DeCrane, juniors and next year's co-managers George Poulis and Rob McGorray, sophomores Jim Mackin, Scott Melino, and head trainer Chris Krenyar along with the enthusiastic herbie Pete Biltz. Additional weekend help was received from the young Dennis Kokoskie.

Starting in late June these young men started coming to St. Edward to get ready for the coming football season. The duties included replacing face masks on the helmets, washing all the clothing, and taking a total inventory. During the pre-season, daily duties consisted of washing footballs, taking blocking pads in and out, making sure everyone is taped, and many other duties that would take too long to list. Our duties of stripping the wax off the helmet, scrubbing them, and then rewaxing them again made it impossible to go out on Friday nights when everyone else was out having a great time. Then comes the task of stacking all the kits, folding jerseys and pants, then getting ready for the game the next day. On gameday they would arrive at St. Ed at six in the morning for the junior varsity game, then stay. The rest of the day was spent in preparation for the varsity game later that night. Put all this time together, and you have no social life. These young men deserve a lot of appreciation for their hard work and dedication. 🐾

"It's up to you in 82"

John Cvetic controls his opponent in the very exciting Tri-State meet in the Eagle's Nest.

This was the motto given to the St. Edward wrestling team this season. They responded by winning a record breaking fifth AAA state title. But the highlight of the season came on January 2, when the eagles up-ended the nations number 1 ranked Midwest City Bombers from Oklahoma, 44-8. St. Edward is now considered the best high school wrestling team in the nation.

Leading the way for the grapplers this year were senior captains Jim Heffernan, John Cvetic, Greg Elinsky, and Joe Sylvestro, and seniors Mark Robinson, and Mike Salm. They were joined by one of the finest groups of underclassmen St. Eds has ever seen.

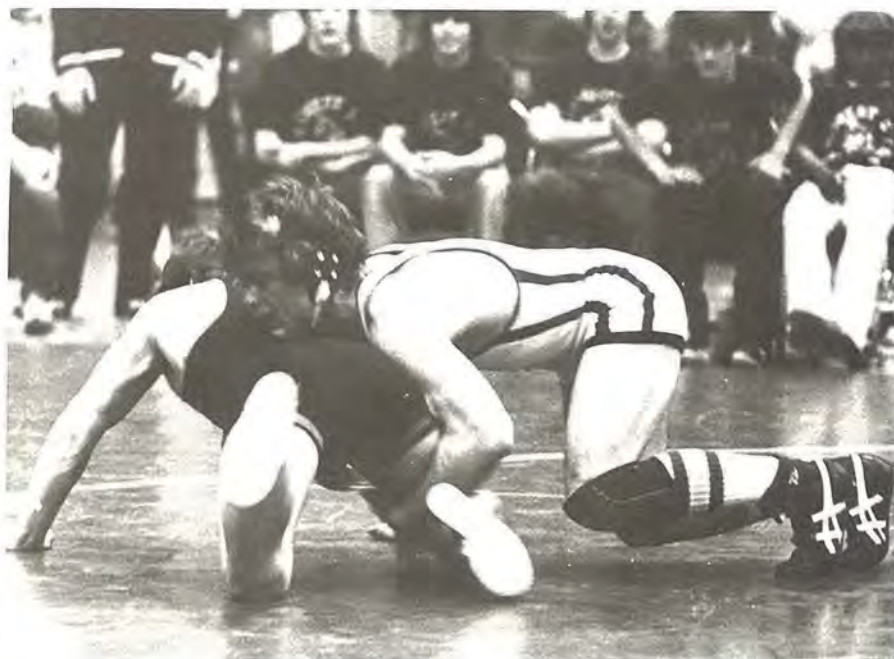

The Eagles took on a schedule that included 12 tournaments. They were victorious in all of them. The season opened with the Walsh Jesuit tournament. The next five weeks included tournament victories at St. Edward, Miami University, Columbus Watterson, North Central Hoover and Marion Harding.

St. Ed's first dual meet victories came against Nevada state champion Eldorado High, and Midwest City. In the next two weeks Sandusky, North Canton, Cardinal Stritch, Nordoncia, Bedford (Michigan) and St. Joe fell victim to the green machine.

The next outing was in New York, where the Eagles defeated teams from three states to take the Clayton Beard Memorial Tournament.

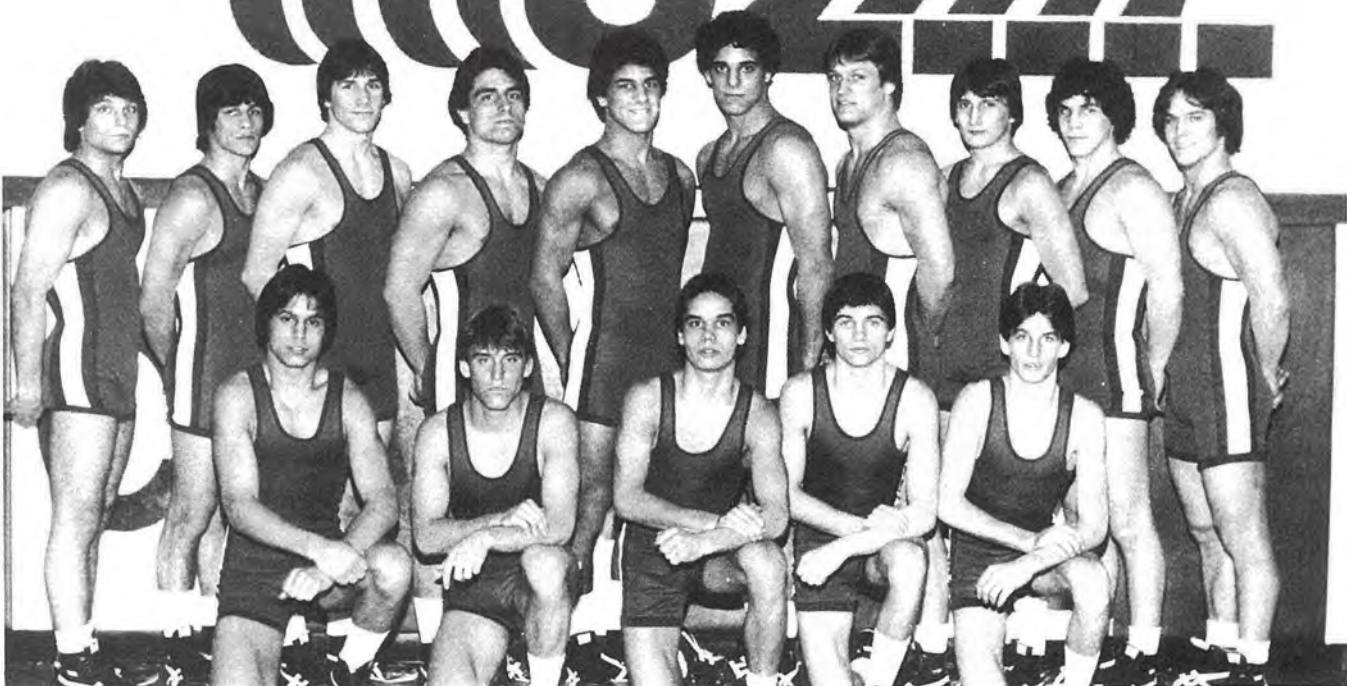

After taking our President's Day Tournament, St. Edward closed out the season with a 7th Sectional, 6th District, and 5th State Tournament Championship.

With returning starters Dave Carlin, Craig Peterjohn, Roland Bonacci, Bob Helderman, Jeff Stolar, Scott Nadock, Gary Fee, Brad Wright, and Frank Waite, St. Edward should dominate the wrestling scene for many years to come. ☞

Young Eagles Gain Experience

Despite the loss of some key performers, most notably Tim Healy and Tom Rossi, this year's cage team has been very successful.

Co-Capt. Neil Tremblay has been the team leader statistically. Because of his sweet shooting touch and aggressive control of the boards, Neil consistently ranks as the top-scorer and rebounder.

Sophomore sensation Mike Mackey moved up to the varsity the fifth week of the season. Game after game he scores well into double figures. He has developed into a fine point guard.

Another outstanding performer is Co-Capt. Brian Hippler. This returning starter exhibits quickness and an aggressive style of play on and off the court.

The men in charge of muscling the key area have been Bob Misch, Jim McConville, John Ardy, and Steve Frantz. Bob shoots from outside as well.

In the backcourt is sharp-shooter Joe Fillipi. He is joined by Tom Hyland, Steve Dolinsky, Scott Marks and D.J. Gaspar.

Utility man for the Eagles is Bill Andrejczak. He plays inside and outside.

Bobby Joe Tedesco is a fighter who never stops hustling.

More often than not the Eagles have been on top of their competitive schedule with victories over Lake Catholic, Collinwood, Max Hayes, and many others.

J.V.'s Drill Fundamentals

Coach Tom Maderia has drilled and worked his troops into a well-disciplined unit used to the idea of winning.

The Jr. cagers have posted impressive victories, at times outshining their varsity counterparts.

Noteworthy is the fact that Marvin Bowman, a Freshman, has started the whole season for the Eagles.

Shooting skill has been the trademark of this group. Expertise in the fundamentals has kept shooting percentages high.

Excellent board strength, scoring potential, and hustle away from the ball combine to post victories.

The pattern is much the same as the Varsity. Look for fine Varsity teams in the future. They are sure to carry on the Eagle tradition. 🏆

It's All In The Wrist

Mrs. Joanne Ross sets a precedent this year as the first female head coach of an athletic team at St. Edward. She fills the shoes of five-year Tennis Coach Tom Glasenapp.

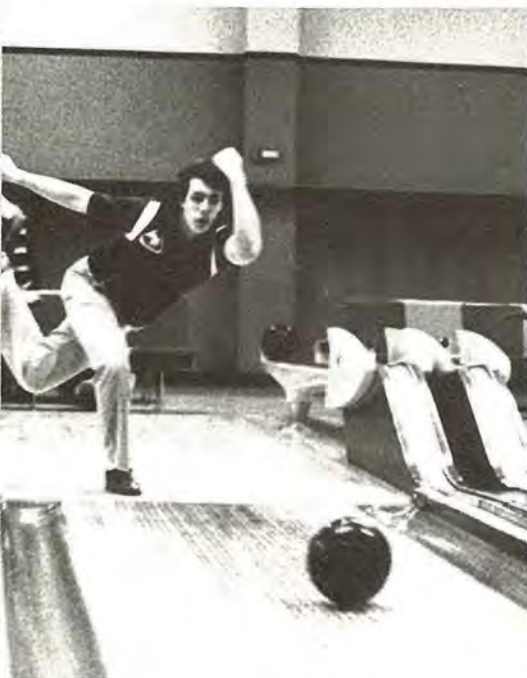

Under the direction of Mrs. Ross are Senior co-captains Dave Tracy and Tom Martineau. Tracy and Martineau held the number one and number two singles spots. The third singles and two doubles teams will be filled from the ranks of Seniors Mike Carey, Kevin Doherty, Nestor Kassaraba and Mark Turner. Turner and Kassaraba are coming off an outstanding 6-1 J.V. season.

The team has set both personal and team goals. They will be shooting for an above .500 record and a spot in the semi-finals in the annual team tournament. Martineau and

Tracy will be looking to make it out of the sectionals and districts in singles and make a strong showing in May.

The 1982 Saint Edward bowling team, guided by Sister Mary Jane, finished another great year. Meeting every Saturday morning at Breckville's Cloverleaf Lanes and led by seniors Mike Lynch, Ed Gradowski, and Brian Wlodarczyk. Juniors Ray Theberge, Alan Shema, John Nageotte and sophomore Jeff Shiepe will help next year's team follow in the steps of this year's team. ❧

Some Fun In The Fall

Senior Brian Nedrich watches his seven-iron approach shot.

The golf team has posted another winning season. These unrecognized, yet proud group of student athletes have kept up the winning tradition of the school by posting a 10-4 record.

The golf team was led by senior captain Brian Nedrich and sophomore Tom Alexsin. They were backed by the consistent play of senior Jack Sikora and junior Terry Kennedy. Also contributing to the Eagles' fine record were seniors Tom Zimmer and Mike Duffy, and junior Cary Slabaugh.

The golfers placed better in the Sectionals than any other St. Edward golf team of the past ten years. They finished fifth, failing to qualify for Districts by one stroke. Their Sectional tournament had the best scores of the Cleveland area. They tallied a total of 336, paced by Tom Alexsin's 80 and Brian Nedrich's 81. Coach Csongei had known that this year's team would be his best chance to qualify for districts, and he told them this before Sectionals. After Sectionals, the team looked back on their play and saw many mistakes which cost them the District spot.

The 1981 St. Edward soccer team finished the season with a 9-5-1 record, the best won-lost record it has ever achieved in its short 4 year history. This season exemplified that the soccer program is moving onward and upward.

The sudden success of the soccer program came about because of one man, coach Peter Terry. He has given the program a real professional outlook. 🏆

Young Icers Make Season Unpredictable

The 1981-1982 edition of the Eagle icers, was young but talented. The team consisted of five seniors, three juniors, five sophomores, and ten, yes ten, freshmen. The team was led by Captains Brian Coughlin, Don Harkins, and Kevin Madden. This was the year of the unexpected for the Eagle icers and their fans. Being young but powerful made it easy for the Icers to do the unexpected. They beat Olmsted Falls 20-0. The Eagles, coached by Mr. Jim Winterich, were plagued by injuries like Jeff Lord's broken neck, which put him out for the season. The Eagles are big and fast but inexperienced and this has been the root of most of their problems. With Madden and Harkins leading the way, the team performed well in the State Tournament. The Eagles are unpredictable, so who knows what the future has in-store for them. ❧

Swinging For The Fence

The 1982 varsity baseball team should once again challenge for the Greater Cleveland Baseball Conference title. With twelve returning lettermen and the experience and talent of these fine men and with the aid of knowledgeable coaches, the Eagles should be able to put together a fine season.

The returning lettermen consist of seniors Frank Crucis, Mike Duffy, Ed Grabowski, Jim Hartstang, Jim McConville, Ron Mingus, Rob Onacila, John Paull, Keith Powers, Steve Taylor, Gino Tedesco, and junior George Campbell.

Moving up from a fine JV team will be senior Chris Nieberding and juniors Rich Barberie, Tom Drapac, Joe Hartstang, Rich Milligan, Gary Miner, Ted Mullen, Mike O'Malley, George Poulis, Earl Taylor, and Ed Viancourt.

The 1982 JV team should enjoy another fine season following last year's 9-2 freshmen team record.

The coaches for this year's varsity baseball team consist of head coach Gerry Gruss and assistant Pete Ducic. This will be coach Gruss' second year at the helm and coach Ducic's fifth year at St. Eds as assistant.

Second year coach Gary Gruss heads the JV's.

The Freshman team will be coached by Tom Link and William Zalatel. This will be their first year of coaching baseball at St. Edward.

The Eagles belong to the Greater Cleveland Baseball Conference, consisting of two divisions. The East Division consists of St. Joseph, Benedictine, and Lake Catholic. The West Division consists of Padua, St. Ignatius, and our Eagles.

The coaching staff, as well as our players, are looking forward to a fine and productive year. ☐

All The Way . . .

The world is full of characters. You have met many of those characters milling around the halls and classrooms.

Starting out as freshmen, you were quiet individuals trying to adapt to the rigors of high school life. After your exposure to those crazy people known as the faculty and student body, you easily settled in.

We have a very unique and exciting faculty. When you are not laughing with your classmates, you find yourself amused by the teachers, as they are unaware of the entertainment they provide.

You might find it hard to realize that these people, who strive in their teachings to help us form solid characters, go All The Way throughout our years here seeing that their efforts succeed.

. . . In People

All The Way With The Help of The Best

Nobody does it better than the St. Edward administration and faculty. For the past 33 years, St. Eds has been under the leadership of dedicated priests, brothers, and laypersons who have totally given of themselves.

You don't have to look too far back to see the great achievements among our academic, athletic, and extracurricular programs.

The success is all due to a dedicated staff giving of themselves both in the class and outside of it. Another reason can be attributed to the Theology Department, which has made remarkable strides in just the past few years. The department has played an integral role in developing the christian man. More important than classtime, the department encourages and stress living the "Good News." It is through giving as a Christian man that an individual continues to grow and develop his interests and talents.

Through the various departments, whether academic or athletic, the St. Eds man grows physically, academically, socially, culturally, aesthetically, psychologically, and spiritually. It is through the best giving all they have that we can go All the Way.

English / Language

After four years of English and English teachers at St. Edward, one accumulates a vast storehouse of knowledge, memories, and other assorted items: A keen grasp of the fine points of English grammar; a strait jacket for attempting suicide after failing every one of Br. Joseph's grammar tests; a wealth of obscure, unpronounceable, but "precise" words from your faithful Word Wealth book; glasses from reading too much or else the world's most complete collection of Cliff notes; an extreme dislike for the letters W S and C D; a soapy mouth after explaining the "Miller's Tale" to your mother; a guilt complex after watching Mr. Duffy's imitation of a Puritan ("Having fun are you?"); finally a sense of satisfaction mixed with relief that you survived at all.

But seriously, even if Br. Joseph's VQ's were your nemesis (World Wealth, pg. 187, third word down), the quality of education you have or will receive at St. Edward will hold you in good stead the rest of your life. The Language Department has a long tradition of excellence. This can be seen in the active participation of teacher in moderating and organizing the Edsman, Flight and Flight Jr., the Edwardian, intramural speech contests, and a spelling contest for the local Catholic grade schools. Also the number of National Merit Semi finalists and other related awards received by students is indicative of the quality of teachers and curricula.

To succeed in today's world it is imperative that we can communicate effectively. It is the task of the Language Department to equip us with these necessary skills; and, even though their task is rarely appreciated by us at the time, someday we will look back and say "Thanks."

Mathematics / Science

Perhaps no two other academic areas are more closely related than the Math and Science Departments. Not only is the practical applications of mathematics realized in science for interpreting data and calculations, but the two departments share a common bond—some of the best educators and most colorful educators at St. Edward.

This year in Math, two of the Honors courses were expanded to hour length periods. This is the first step in perfecting what already seems to be an excellent program in building a solid foundation for higher mathematics studied in college.

The Science Department mirrors the Math program in that the Chairman would also like to expand on the present program of studies. Students are encouraged to take four years of science as well as math.

Many of us who do pursue a fourth year course in math or science find it challenging and worthwhile for starting that first year of college a step ahead of the rest. Nowhere else will a student find dedicated teachers like Mr. Thompson, Br. David, and the rest of the Math and Science staffs. It's just another way that people who did make it are helping us go "All the Way."

Social Sciences / Business

The Social Studies and Business Departments work to provide for the social and cultural growth of the student body. The social sciences give us an insight into the past and present helping us build a better future. The Business Department equips us with the concrete foundation for economic survival in an ever-changing and complex world.

Like the other departments in the school, they are interdependent. Through programs like the Council on World Affairs and the annual canned-food drives, they add an extra dimension to a student's education. Both departments teach the student to think clearly and logically about his society and his role in it. They also encourage an awareness of and conscientious concern for the socio-economic problems of our world today. The dedicated staff of both departments serve not only as quality instructors but as an example for the students to move "All the Way" to the top in their future endeavors.

The Military Science Club encourages reenacting many battle scenes as a method of really understanding what really happened.

*The Holy Cross Tradition of

Retrospection: A Humorous Reflection

Mike and I finished our pick-ups and began talking to some of the other teams warming-up on the course. A guy asked us if the "St. Edward" printed on the back of our warm-ups was "Lakewood, St. Edward." We replied that it was, and he told us about how he had graduated in '56. Now he was a cross country coach for a small AA school in Southern Ohio.

Over the years, St. Edward has turned-out men who have filled the ranks of a variety of professions throughout the world. We have alumni who are lawyers, accountants, priests, bankers, salesmen, engineers, pilots, doctors, and politicians. Phil Donahue, our first celebrity; Tom Cousineau, our first all-American; Tito, our first President? Well, anyway, our first Presidential Scholar.

What will the future bring for today's St. Edward students? The past has been filled with surprises. Do you remember being a herb? How about your first rally, tennis balls, your first detention, Art Culture with Mr. Nichols, Mr. Gutbrod, Br. Joseph, Johnny E. Warringer, WordWealth, World History with Br. B., Summer books, Mr. Nieberding's "C'mon man," Mr. Chollet, "Aaah ... Wouna, start the Hail Mary," "Eagleman, proms, homecoming, Edsman issues, Ms. Medved, and add anything else that may dawn upon your dreary but extremely mature senior mind. If not, maybe some of these photographs will help to remind you. Senior Dave Tracy in one of those "so-called" pictures that are to bring back memories. (Along with Senior Jeff Ketterer." 📷

All The Way In 1982

Mr. Edward Mack

To the Senior Class of 1982

I am honored to be able to have one final chance to address you.

Four years have passed quickly since, in 1978, nearly four hundred boys walked through these doors for the first time as students of St. Edward High School. Soon, nearly three hundred and forty young men will exit those doors as graduates. My mind crowds with memories of those four years.

To be honest with you, I was concerned about a number of things during your first two years. There were not many activities for us to share, but I sensed that if the final two years were to be a success, much was riding on the success of the first two years — foundations had to be laid. Pride, maturity, leadership, spirit and Christianity were, and are, important to me, and I wanted you to understand that too. I needed time with you, since I didn't teach you in class. That's why I liked Intramurals — and why we started the tradition of the Overnighter. It gave me the chance to get to know who you were, and to have you feel comfortable with me. I knew that I could begin to let go of the reins a little — and watch you take the responsibility for the class. Since then, and especially this past year, I have seen, over and over, examples of men who are responsible, caring Christians. THAT has made me most pleased. Of course, I was happy that we had rallies, prom, intramurals, and all the other activities, but those things pass so quickly. What lasts, and hopefully you will take with you as you leave us, is a spirit, an understanding, a vision of what life can be, of what relationship means, of what service and manly caring is about — a Christian existence.

It makes this a difficult and poignant moment: I am at the same time proud and sad. I am proud to have been part of your growth for the past four years; but sad because when you graduate, there will always be a little vacuum in my life, a certain emptiness in the halls of Saint Edward High School.

Brother Jerome Meyer
Class of '82:

It is with heavy and happy heart that I address you. It is difficult to say farewell to people who you have learned to love and appreciate. It is with anticipation that I say farewell. You have been the center of many peoples' concern over the past four years. We have tried to provide you with the foundation needed to mature into strong Christian persons. We now must sit back and pray that you will build a strong edifice on that foundation. We have done all that we know how and now you must do all that you know how. I have enjoyed your class very much. I appreciate your receiving me as co-moderator with such love and openness. You will always share a cherished spot in my heart. Best of what the future has to offer. Keep Christ as the number one person in your lives. Keep in touch. ☒

All The Way . . .

Service is an important part of the web of clubs and organizations that entwine the St. Edward community. These groups, through service to one's classmates, teachers, parents, and school, keep this community together and strong. In fact, these groups help in making us go All The Way throughout the year.

Some of these groups go on without anyone taking notice. The Edwardian and Edsman provide the school with news, features, sports, and unending memories of our past four years.

Many other organizations help the St. Edward community continue in maintaining high goals, goals of going All The Way.

Catch The Spirit

Promoting school spirit and pride are the main jobs of the rally, hoop, and poster committees.

The Poster Committee met every Wednesday evening to paint posters designed to add some color to the halls and psych up the students, faculty, and athletic team.

The Hoop Committee met on Wednesday and Thursday nights to work hard on a hoop only to see it destroyed by one of the Eagle football players.

The Rally Committee had a very successful and interesting year. This committee had the difficult task of pleasing both the students and the administration.

Raiders of the Lost Ark was the theme of the first rally which proved to be the best in years.

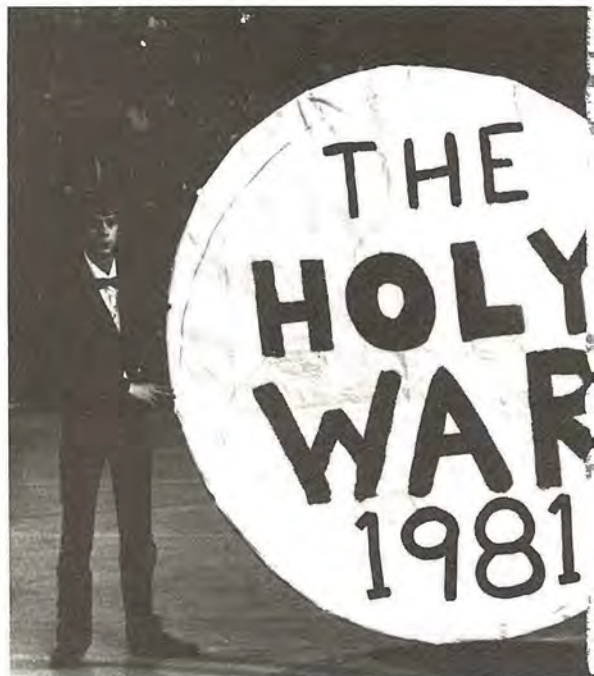

NFL Today was the theme of the second rally. Designed for the Moeller game, this rally had some added excitement with Eagleman getting the proverbial "boot" for the weekend.

All of these committees did a fantastic job and helped make 1981-82 a successful "All the Way" year. 🍷

The demented Rally Committee spurs on the crowd.

Let's Go Eagles!

There are those who never use their lungs. Then there are those who think they know how to use their lungs. But then there are those who make the working of their lungs an art. These prestigious and dedicated people are the Screaming Eagles and Cheerleaders.

The Screaming Eagles make it a point to make the spirit fly high as they attend every football, basketball, and wrestling match. The Screaming Eagles make sure the team has spirit.

The Cheerleaders comprise a co-ed part of St. Edward. This small group of girls and a handful of Edsmen excite the crowd with their cheers of victory at every sporting event. 🦅

Kathey Menger shows her disgust as Moeller scores another touchdown against the Green Wall.

Halftime Highlights

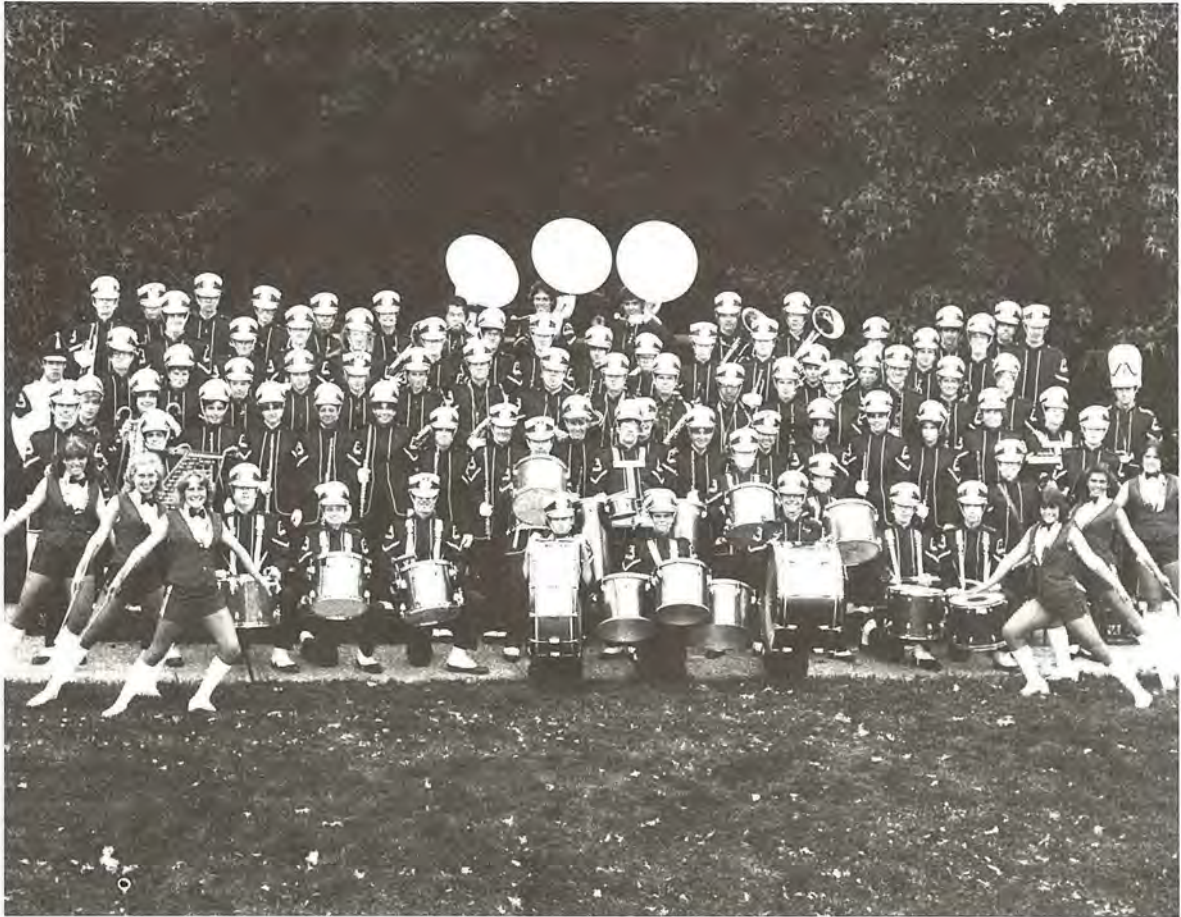

Many of you may have noticed a strange group of students occupying the field, emitting strange sounds, before and during halftime every game. This is the St. Edward Marching Band.

The Marching Band is under the guidance of director Br. Kenneth Kane, C.S.C. and associate director Mr. Vernon Stover. The band begins in the summer with practices every Tuesday and Thursday. At these practices, the band becomes familiar with the music and performs at a few parades.

In the last week of August, the band goes away to camp for a week. The purpose of this camp is for the learning the shows which will be performed at games during the year.

The shows are charted by Senior Drum Major Patrick Walsh and Junior Bill Thewes. This requires much work on their part including a camp which they must attend for aspiring drum majors. ❏

In Concert

A newly formed organization this year is the String Ensemble. The String Ensemble meets Monday and Wednesday after school and consists of students from St. Ed's, Augustine's and St. Joe's. The String Ensemble performs at both the Winter and Spring Concerts.

This year's Wind Ensemble may have been one of the most exciting in many years. Under the direction of Brother Ken Kane, this year's Wind Ensemble was both versatile and unique. A more balanced group was established which proved to be successful. The group's highlight was their trip to Houston, Texas, where they performed concerts for other high schools.

If one would like to hear some selections from the Forties and Fifties, the group to listen to is the Stage Band. The band consists of 21 members, including three female singers, and three male singers, who also perform in the band. The Stage Band practices on Sunday nights from 7-9 P.M. This year the Stage Band put on an excellent show for the "Big Band Dance" in January and the Alumni Dance in March. The group performs both big band selections and some pop music. ❧

Like the Wind Ensemble, the Concert Band is just as exciting. The Concert Band is under the direction of Mr. Stover. There are about 40 members in the Concert Band. The Concert Band performs at all of the concerts put on by the Fine Arts Department.

Has anyone ever noticed who practices on Wednesday from 3 to 5 o'clock? It is the Chorus. There are approximately forty members in the Chorus. Besides St. Edward students, the neighboring girls' schools also participate. The Chorus performs at the Winter and Spring Concerts and other functions throughout Cleveland.

A relatively new singing group is the Barbership Quartet. This consists of Seniors Sean Aylward, Brian Walsh, Patrick Walsh, and sophomore Michael Aylward; all are members of the Wind Ensemble. They perform a variety of old favorites at many of the concerts.

The Pops Chorale & The Regal Eagles: Michael Aylard, Sean Aylard, Darren Broadbent, John Cardelle, Scott Ferris, David Fioritto, Keith Galestock, Kenneth Golick, Gregory Hengesbaugh, Eric Jenkins, Michael Towarnicky, Edward Redman, Andrew Serafini, Nick Voss, Brian Walsh, Patrick Walsh, Sarah Beck,

Next Best Thing to Broadway

From the oriental splendor of Post World War II Okinawa to the polite society of turn-of-the-century London, this year's Edwardian Players have entertained and enlightened their audiences.

In mid November the Players, under the direction of Br. Kenneth Kane, C.S.C., presented John Patrick's marvelous "The Teahouse of the August Moon" based on the novel by Vern Sneider about Geishas and American GI's on the island of Ikinawa at the close of the World War II. Great individual performances by Pat Walsh, Dave Pepper, and Lisa Motsis along with an elaborate set construction under the direction of Mr. Wallenhorst combined to provide an evening of unforgettable entertainment. Colorful wardrobe supplied by Mrs. Ruth Stopper and lively choreography engineered by Ms. Drew Koran highlighted the production.

In the spring, this same dedicated and talented group of students and faculty presented the famous and delightful musical "My Fair Lady" based on the play "Pygmalion" by the immortal George Bernard Shaw. Senior English students who read the play as part of their regular curriculum were finally able to see a live production right here at St. Edward. With outstanding performances by Brian Walsh, Michael Towarnicky, and Jean Winkler the play proved to be everything expected and much more. Congratulations to this year's Edwardian Players for another fine year of theater. 🎭

The Art Of Arguing

The St. Edward Council on World Affairs is an organization of Edsmen who are our future diplomats in action today. SECWA tries to infuse in its members a true diplomatic acumen. Through various training sessions and model United Nations SECWA members are made familiar with the workings of government on a worldwide scale.

Each year SECWA members represent different countries in three model United Nations around the country. The first, held in November is sponsored by Gannon University. The second is the North American Invitational Model United Nations held in Washington and sponsored by Georgetown University. And finally, the third is held here in Cleveland and sponsored by Cleveland State University.

St. Edward has gained recognition for producing yet another outstanding team. This time the team is the debate team, coached by Mr. Richard Chonat. Last season having been a building year, the team was ready for the 1981-1982 season. And considering the inexperience of the varsity members, the team was exceptional. The season was highlighted by a second place finish at the Brunswick Tournament and an impressive showing at the Case Western Reserve University Tournament where St. Ed's advanced to the quarter-finals. The regular season was closed out by a first place finish at the St. Ignatius Tournament. St. Edward has emerged as one of the top three teams in their district, and they are confident that they will qualify for State this year. The team has much talent and next year should prove to be very eventful. ☐

Raising A Hugh And Cry

Back in the darkest yet brightest corner of St. Edward lies an abyss in which the accumulation of journalistic talent and ability combine to help in the formation of The Edsman, the school newspaper. The 1981-1982 publication has shown innovative ideas in layout, writing, and art which has given the school one of the best newspapers to have circulated through the halls in recent years.

The Edsman is an uncensored student publication, free from any restraint from the advisor or the administration. Under the passive logistical influence of advisor Mr. Joseph Serraglio, the staff manages to put forth quality work in every publication. The Edsman is led (and occasionally controlled) by Andrew Serafini. He is aided in the confinement of the Edsman offices by his executive editor Jim Valco and managing editor John Mack. Together, all three form the elite division of power and excellence exemplified in The Edsman. These three are surrounded by another elite corps of editors who combine their creative ideas to add to the flair and style of the Edsman.

The Edsman, is a publication which is a tribute to the school and the community — All the Way! 🍷

All The Way

Aided by a small yet dedicated staff, Senior Editor-in-chief, Eric Butner, has produced one of St. Edward's finest yearbooks ever. Eric was helped by this year's Assistant Editors, John Brandmeier and Andrew Serafini, along with important contributions by senior editors Patrick Ertle (Athletics), Dennis Luna (Faculty and Underclassmen, Seniors and Senior Index), Mark Girard (Photography), and David Prusak (Copy).

Preparation for the book began early last summer when Eric attended a yearbook workshop at Ball State University in Indiana. During this time, the theme for this year's book, "All the Way," was chosen. With a good mixture of seniors and a few underclassmen, this year's staff was truly representative of the best ideas of the student body. All of the staff and the moderators, Mr. Kovacs and Br. Thomas Sisung, are to be congratulated on another fine achievement.

Above Par

The National Honor Society is definitely a highly esteemed group of Seniors and Juniors. Members must maintain a 3.2 grade average and be involved in many extra-curriculars. Under President Tim Vaughan, Vice-President Dennis Luna, and Secretary Mike Carl, the National Honor Society goes unnoticed, performing many tasks no one else would be crazy enough to do. These include posting 500 names on the Honor Roll Boards, setting up the graduation ceremonies, keeping the college catalogues in order, and chaperoning the college night St. Edward sponsors every other year. The responsibility of the above activities mainly rests with the President or Vice-President, but President Tim Vaughan said of his responsibility: "The job does not entail much work, but it does look nice on my college application." ❧

Shake, Rattle, and Roll

Under chairmen Tom Rossi, Jim East, and John Cvetic, this year's Homecoming was well worth the many hours of preparation. It all began when the first Homecoming meeting was held and the theme was decided on. Final preparations were made the last few days before Homecoming when the actual construction took place.

The Queen was chosen from four girls who spoke at an assembly on the Friday before. Joann Aernie was announced Queen during halftime at the Padua game.

The dance itself was sold out.

Camelot was the theme. "Knights in White Satin" was the theme song, and the band was Champion, formerly Starfleet.

This year's Senior prom was held at the Holiday Inn in Westlake on May 14th.

Preparations began nine months ahead of time under chairpersons Pat Greller and Ron Weisenseel and a committee of thirty seniors.

The 250 couples that attended the prom danced to the music of the band Champion. The theme song for the prom was "Just Between You and Me".

Prose and Prayer

The literary magazine of St. Edward High School, Flight, is once again under the capable direction of Brother Joseph Chvala. The staff of 1981-1982 is led by co-editors William Bir, Thomas Dunn, Michael Branicky, and Paul Kwiat. The most difficult job of the staff is choosing the selections which will gain entry into our literary magazine, since so many fine writings can not be chosen. Flight has won numerous awards over the years, and this year's edition is no exception. As always, Flight, is representative of the excellence of the prose and poetry of the students of St. Edward.

What is it that makes St. Edward's so special? Is it the academics? Athletics? Extracurriculars? Location? All these might be reasons why an eighth grader would choose St. Edward. But what does he find when he gets here? There is something different. Something you can't touch, but you know it is there. It becomes more and more evident as each year passes. Four years later, when a senior looks back, he knows he has changed. He has changed physically and intellectually. More importantly, he has changed spiritually.

At first glance St. Edward is your average, boys, Catholic high school. But if one chances to look deeper, he sees a spirit that makes St. Ed's unique, the spirit of a Christian community. The spirit is not always evident. It is hard to see when you get a detention, or fail a test. Still it lives. There are times when it is plainly evident. The best of these times are the retreats, particularly the senior retreat. The retreat program tries to give the student something he can take away from the retreat and carry with him in his everyday life. This has brought about a big change in the student's life.

It seems that the same faculty members are always there. They want all students to feel included in the community. Time and again they sacrifice their days and weekends for retreat.

The spiritual growth that can be accomplished through these retreats is priceless. God has truly blessed us by bringing this program to St. Edward High School. ☒

Service to the School

The Key Club is a service-minded organization that works in the community with the local Kiwanis Club. With the guidance of Mr. Bacso and President Rich Abdallah the Key Club organizes charitable drives and activities to help the poor of the community. Members of the club also brighten the lives of the sick and elderly through visitation and socializing. This year the canned food drive was the most successful drive in the history of St. Ed's. All of the students at St. Ed's should follow the example set forth by these men.

Keeping up with the tradition of having one NCTE winner each year, this year we have three. Seniors John Mack, Dave Tracy, and Tim Vaughan are to be commended on their excellence in writing. The best high school writers in the nation compete in this contest sponsored by the National Council of Teachers of English. 📖

Moguls and Munchies

This extracurricular is different from others at St. Ed's in that it takes place outside school grounds. All those in the club are taken by bus to Brandywine Ski Resort. The drive is long, but the skiers make the best of the trip by listening to music, eating, or just talking. All are delighted when the bus finally reaches the slopes. The club consists of many different levels of skier, from the novice to the expert of the slopes. Warming your feet by the fire, buying food, and rescuing damsels in distress are some diversions to skiing. The night is full of learning tricks to improve your technique. Finally it comes time to put the skis and boots away and head back to the bus. The scattered groups make it back to the bus. Some of them have phone numbers, others have bodies on the verge of collapse. All of them will be returning next week to take on the slopes again. ❧

This school year is now history. Through these pages, you hopefully have come to the realization that we at St. Edward have the will to be achievers. More importantly, we have combined that will with our ability to come up with a winning tradition.

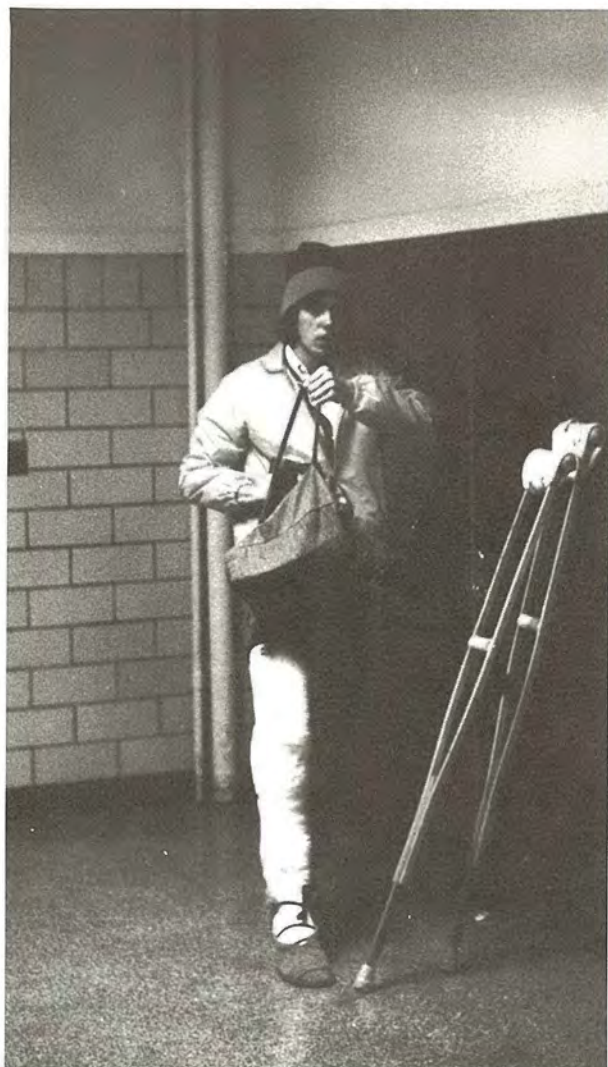

St. Edward, with the effort of both students and faculty, does not just fit the mold of an average high school. We break the mold.

St. Edward is unique in every way. This singularity includes the Christian attitude which is developed and refined throughout a student's years here.

Whatever we do at St. Edward, we do it "all the way." Edsmen will accept nothing less.

All the Way
